St. Anne Dormitory Damaged by Blaze

County Probe Is Made of Fires Too Many Coincidences Are Noted; Latest Is on Boulevard

Local police today were drawn into a countywide investigation of suspicious fires after a barn along the Boulevard near the city line was damaged in a blaze believed of incendiary origin.

Authorities are considering the fact that the fires are occurring with a bold frequency, if a single arsonist is involved, and if not the county is experiencing too many coincidental fires of suspicious origin.

Firemen were called at 7 a. m. today for the fire which started near the front door of the second floor of the two-story barn on the Boulevard.

Nun Discovers Fire as Rehearsal Is Conducted for Play

A fire, which Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said, might have started from a chimney spark, damaged a two-story brick dormitory at the convent of St. Anne, 287 Broadway last night.

The blaze, it was learned at the convent today, was discovered by one of the sisters, who was ill and whose room faces the building.

The 15 other persons who were on the property at the time were in the basement of the dormitory, where seven girls were rehearsing for a Christmas play, when the fire was discovered. The play is to be given Monday.

Firemen were called at 8:37 p. m., and Chief Murphy, as soon as he arrived sent a radio call for more men and equipment.

Upper Story Burns

The whole roof was involved, the chief said, when Deputy Fire Chief Sanford went into the building. The blaze damaged the roof and attic and caused other damage throughout the building by smoke and water.

Engine No. 1 of Central, Engine 2 of Cornell, and Truck 1, Central answered the first telephone call, the chief said. He called in Rapid Hose and Wicks Engine Company, Truck 2 of Wiltwyck with Union standing by at its station and Cordis Hose Company at Central Station. Wicks was later sent back to stand by Central station.

Third Ballot Fails in France

None of Three Candidates Gets Anywhere Near Enough Votes

Versailles, France, Dec. 18 (AP)—France's badly divided parliament failed again today to elect a president of the republic in an unprecedented third round of voting.

None of the three candidates left in the contest got anywhere enough votes for election.

Premier Joseph Laniel, wealthy industrialist, wound up with 358, Socialist Candidate Marcel-Edmond Naegelen 313, and radical Socialist Yvon Delbos 225. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault withdrew just before the third round of voting began.

The joint session of parliament cast 26 votes for a varied assortment of men who were not officially candidates. Thus the number of votes needed for election was 462.

Fourth Ballot Due

A fourth ballot is now required to try to break the deadlock. That will begin at about 8:30 p. m. (2:30 p. m. EST).

Naegelen led with 299 of the 923 votes cast by members of the National Assembly and Senate in the second ballot last night. Laniel had 276, Delbos 185 and Bidault, of the Catholic-dominated popular Republican movement 143.

A majority of the votes cast is required for election to the seven-year term to succeed President (Continued on Page 12, Col. 2)

Youth Says Mother Was His Reason

Male Friend, However, Reports Plot Hatched to Get Their Hands on $150,000

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—A 20-year-old chemist has confessed the cyanide cocktail murders of his well-to-do parents and says he killed them because his mother had accused him of sexual abnormality for as long as he can remember.

But a male friend says he and the lazy, luxury-loving son hatched the weird toast-of-death plot to get their hands on $150,000.

Bronx District Attorney George B. De Luca announced last night that Harlow Fraden, poetry-loving college graduate, admitted he had treated his parents to champagne cocktails spiked with potassium cyanide.

Fraden allegedly hurried the job with more poison during the death agony of his parents—Dr. William Fraden, 50, a physician, and his wife, Shirley, 46, a school teacher.

Says Accusation Resented

Fraden's mother had chided him as abnormal, even "before he knew anything about sex," De Luca said in announcing the son had confessed after many hours of questioning.

"This he strongly resented," the prosecutor said. "Fraden further stated that he did not kill his parents for personal gain, because his parents gave him all the money he wanted."

Fraden said he bore no animosity toward his father.

Fraden had been confronted with the confession of his friend, Dennis Weyman, 20, an unemployed free lance writer, who had related that he and Fraden plotted the crime for money.

Gave Poisoned Cocktails

De Luca said Fraden finally confessed he murdered his parents in the manner that Weyman described:—The son told his parents falsely that he finally had gotten a job, and gave them poisoned champagne cocktails to join him in a toast to the end of his life.

The deaths of the parents had been listed tentatively for four months as a double suicide or murder and suicide until the case cracked open Wednesday through a pretty girl friend of Weyman. He confided to her that he was in (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3)

Thruway Opens Between City and Catskill

Opening of the New York State Thruway at Route 28 yesterday did not invite a heavy rush of traffic, but many trucks and cars were aware that the expressway was open between here and Catskill, and used it even during the first hour. Above is one of the first trucks to ride through. The city found no special traffic problem on opening day. (Freeman photo)

Bomber Wreckage Sighted on Glacier; To Send Rescuers

'Presumed' Survivors Seen by American Plane Over Iceland; Carried 9

London, Dec. 18 (AP)—The broken wreckage of a missing American navy patrol bomber was sighted today on a bleak Icelandic glacier. First reports said there are survivors among the nine-man crew.

U. S. Air Force Headquarters in London said an Icelandic ground rescue party will be rushed by plane to a small airfield at the foot of the glacier.

An American air rescue plane from Iceland reported sighting the "badly broken up" wreckage this afternoon after a 24-hour search by 10 planes and at least two Danish ships. It reported "presumed" survivors.

The P2V bomber was on a round-robin training mission from Keflavik Airfield, near Reykjavik, (Continued on Page 12, Col. 5)

Pearl River Firm To Lay Water Line Work to Start Next Month on $98,867 Project to Boost Supply

A contract to lay 5,630 feet of water line was awarded to Beck-erle-Brown Inc., of Pearl River by the Kingston Board of Water Commissioners in a recessed meeting last night on a bid of $98,867.50.

The bid is about $21,000 under the estimated cost. Work is scheduled to start in January on the project and it is due to be finished in 100 days after the starting date.

The section of 18-inch iron pipe to be replaced was laid in 1884 by the Kingston Water Co., a private concern. The new pipe will be 20 inches and will extend from the (Continued on Page 12, Col. 2)

Social Security, Help for Handicapped Are Discussed by Group

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Republican leaders of Congress turned to taxes, the national debt limit, atomic energy and foreign affairs today in a second round of White House conferences to hammer out a new legislative program.

Social Security and aid to the physically handicapped, as well as a continuing discussion of national health problems, also were on the agenda with Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Eisele reported. They were taken in by neighbors and provided with food and clothing.

Fireman Injured

The injured fireman was Earl Glicerist, 49, of Bloomington, who was found lying alongside a fire truck about 5 a. m. today and was rushed to Kingston Hospital by Deputy Eisele. He was found to be suffering from exposure and possible concussion, and his condition was reported later in the morning as "fair."

Glicerist, discovered by Fireman Herbert Fournelle, was in a semi-conscious state and unable to tell (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

730 Without Jobs Kingston Report Says for December

Seasonal Unemployment Is Listed as Main Cause; 345 Persons Are Given Work

Seasonal unemployment and scattered lay-offs by manufacturing firms were reflected in a rise in the number of unemployment insurance payments made in November and early this month at the local office of the State Labor Department's division of placement and unemployment insurance.

The average weekly unemployment insurance payments for Ulster county during November totaled 587 plus six veterans. Of the claims, 528 were paid at the Kingston office and the balance at the Ellenville branch. (The Sauter's branch was closed in September and claimants now report to Kingston.)

Greenlease Killers Die in Gas Chamber After Refusing Statement on Missing Cash

(Larry Hall who wrote the following story on the Hall-Heady execution was one of three newsmen who watched the kidnappers die in the Missouri gas chamber.)

BY LARRY HALL

Jefferson City, Mo., Dec. 18 (AP)—Lips reddened by a final kiss but silent on the missing ransom mystery, Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady died together in the gas chamber early today for the kidnap slaying of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

The notorious pair refused a final official request for a statement which might have shed light on what happened to half the record $600,000 collected from (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3) the multimillionaire father of the child they stole and murdered last Sept. 28.

Heady spent her last minutes in brief conversation and farewell embrace, shared a final cigarette, bade their Missouri prison guards goodbye and died side by side amid swirling clouds of deadly cyanide gas.

Mrs. Heady, 41, plump and dark-haired, mustered a parting jest at the leather straps that bound her to the death chair.

Her 34-year-old wastrel lover had words for none but her after both had prayed with two ministers who attended the midnight execution.

Hall died first, gulping in the poison fumes as if eager to end a (Continued on Page 6, Col. 3) wasted life. His death was recorded at 12:12 a. m. (CST).

Mrs. Heady seemed reluctant. She appeared to hold her breath. Although she was unconscious after the first sniff, her lungs labored for two minutes and 10 seconds after Hall's body had slumped motionless.

Dr. G. Donald Shull, a prison physician, commented that her breathing lasted longer than any person he had ever seen die in the gas chamber. No other woman ever has been so executed in this state.

The killers' final conversation—it lasted about 10 minutes—was in a small detention cell just off the gas chamber. With them was U. S. Marshal William B. Tatman. The pair was not visible to the official witnesses as they sat side by side on a cot in this cell.

As he stepped out of this cell to clamber into the death chamber Hall's lips were reddened as if with lipstick. Tatman, after the execution, confirmed the two had given each other a final embrace and kiss.

"You wouldn't want to deprive them of that," the Marshal said. Hall was puffing on a cigarette as they approached the gas chamber. He passed it to Mrs. Heady who took a final puff.

Tatman stepped into the gas chamber with the two. After guards had blindfolded them and strapped them to the chairs, the marshal asked: "Have you anything to tell me?"

Witnesses sensed in this question a last effort to find out if either knew what happened to more than $300,000 of the ransom money they collected in Kansas City on Oct. 4 and which was missing when they were captured in St. Louis on Oct. 6.

Industry Has Made 50 Site Inquiries in City During '53

Industry, always on the lookout for new sites, has had its eyes on Kingston and the area.

Within the past year, for instance, at least 50 bona fide inquiries about the area have been received by the Chamber of Commerce from industrial firms.

Available sites in and around the city have been inspected personally by representatives of firms—some of them such "big name" concerns as Westinghouse, Squibb, Alcoa, Corning Glass, and, of course, IBM.

Immediately following each visit by such representatives, there invariably follows a wealth of rumors to the effect that a certain firm will locate a plant in Kingston. Construction, according to rumor, is often expected to start within a day or two.

The disappointment which comes when no excavators appear on the property the following morning could be avoided by an understanding of the procedure used by most big firms for selecting new sites.

"The task of picking sites for new plants," wrote Sidney Fish in The Journal of Commerce (Oct. 7, 1953), "has become a highly specialized undertaking."

Large firms often select from 75 to 100 potential locations which, according to preliminary information available to them, show promise of meeting their own particular needs.

Reluctant PWs May Get One Last Chance to Change Plan

Panmunjom, Dec. 18 (AP)—The top neutral officer in Korea indicated today that reluctant war prisoners—including the 22 Americans—may get one last chance to change their mind after the explanation period ends.

Meanwhile, hopes dwindled that allied persuasion teams will meet the 22 Americans before the deadline next Wednesday midnight.

The Neutral Repatriation Commission put off until Monday consideration of demands by pro-Communist South Korean prisoners which the Americans and one British prisoner say must be met before they will attend interviews.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Repatriation Commission, said in answer to written questions from newsmen that he might "take up at a later date" the possibility of screening all prisoners who have refused to return to their homelands.

Although Thimayya said he had "no plan, either concrete or tentative," there has been speculation he would give the POWs one last chance—without any coercion. Thimayya said six weeks ago he planned on it.

At that time Thimayya suggested he would station an Indian officer in a hut, have all POWs remaining in neutral custody file through individually, and express their desire in one word—"repatriation" or "non-repatriation."

Other Indian officers offered another simple plan: Have the prisoners walk single file, at considerable distances from each other, down a narrow Y-shaped path. One arm would lead to repatriation, the other back to the Indian-guarded compound in the neutral zone.

A South Korean prisoner who fled from the pro-Communist compound Wednesday said four Americans might return home if given a chance. A total of 77 Koreans remain to be interviewed.

Thimayya has estimated that as many as 2,500 Koreans and Chi- (Continued on Page 23, Col. 6)

Dewey Seeks Support for Plan to Get Czar To Have Jurisdiction Over Harness Racing

Albany, Dec. 18 (AP)—Gov. Dewey is rallying legislative support for his plan to set up a state "czar" to rid harness racing of scandal—just as Kenesaw Mountain Landis cleaned up baseball.

An informed source disclosed yesterday, after Dewey conferred with top-flight state officials and legislative leaders, that the governor had broached the idea of appointing a single commissioner with full power to rule all phases of the 300-million-dollar-a-year sulky sport.

The informant said no final decision had been reached. But it was held unlikely that any hint of the plan would have leaked out unless it were almost certain to become part of the administration program.

Harness Racing Commission would have to be submitted to the Legislature, which convenes Jan. 6.

Support of the administration by Senate and Assembly leaders could be expected to push the bill through the strongly Republican Legislature.

Attending the governor's closed conference to map legislative strategy were the leaders of both Houses, elected state officials, the budget director and the GOP state chairman.

The talks were to continue today.

Besides the harness racing plan, the group also talked over the problem of slum clearance in cities and Mayor-elect Robert F. Wagner's financial program for New York City, the source said.

Discussion of the latter was postponed until Wagner formally (Continued on Page 7, Col. 6)

Republicans Seeking Vital Organization

New Paltz, Dec. 17—The Republican Town Committee sponsored a Victory Dinner at the Old Fort on Monday, Dec. 1. Jay Le Fevre, chairman, said an idea advanced for the formation of a local Republican organization had met with enthusiastic response by those in attendance.

A plan will be devised to utilize the potential and as yet untapped ability of a considerable number of registered Republicans living in the Town of New Paltz. It will not only supply an adequate number of party workers but it will also offer opportunities for young Republicans and insure a wide representation in policy making and promote social acquaintance between old and new residents. It may rouse some of the traditionally confident and complacent Republicans.

Spade work has been started for the development of this organization. Information is being compiled regarding similar organizations elsewhere. Lists are being checked and following the holidays an initial meeting will be called. Ample notice of the first meeting will be given and it is hoped that a large number will be present.

Those attending the dinner were Jay Le Fevre, Henry DuBois and B. H. Matteson for election district number 1 and Le Fevre and David DuBois for election district number 2. Supervisor Frank Elliot, Judge Richard Lent, Judge I. C. Barnes, Councilman Fred DuBois, Assessors Howard Grimm and Fred Osterhoudt, Town Clerk Ray Terpenning, Road Commissioner George Knickerbocker and Mrs. John Jacobson, school director.

Miss Thompson Leaves Campus School Friday

New Paltz, Dec. 17—With the closing of school on Friday the teaching career of one of the Campus School's most loved teachers will come to an end—at least in the Campus School. Miss Gertrude Thompson leaves with her mother to make their home with Miss Thompson's uncle, W. G. Thomas, in Los Angeles, Calif.

Miss Thompson has been loved by pupils and parents alike. She has taught children of her earlier pupils in New Paltz. Of course, she dislikes leaving New Paltz after so many happy years here and hopes friends will stop to see her whenever they come to Los Angeles.

The last issue of the PFO Bulletin paid a two-page tribute to Miss Thompson. She has been one of the Faculty Representatives since the Parent-Faculty Organization began and has worked wholeheartedly with parents to get the organization off to a good start. Many well-wishes accompany Miss Thompson to her new home.

Faculty Hears Report From Student Council

New Paltz, Dec. 17—The regular monthly meeting of the faculty of the New Paltz High School was held last Thursday afternoon.

Walter Paradies, president of the Student Council, reported on what the Council has been doing. Acting upon suggestions made by the teachers at their last meeting he reported that someone had been assigned by the Council to read the minutes of the Council meetings to each homeroom and that they were working on a plan to have a Student Council member assigned to assist the faculty chaperones at all school functions. He also reported that the council is now working on a plan to set up a scholarship fund. There was much discussion about a proposed revision of the rules governing eligibility of students to take part in school athletic competition. It was finally decided that the following rules would govern the eligibility of the student:

No student shall be eligible who is failing two or more subjects.

No student shall be eligible who accumulates 10 or more citizenship deficiency points.

No student shall be eligible to play who has been ineligible for any three weeks. (This last rule applies for the remainder of the "season"—of which there are four, football, basketball, baseball and track.)

A student failing the same subject three weeks in a row becomes ineligible.

These rules will apply to all students, boys and girls, in all interschool athletic programs. Eligibility will be determined each week. This means a student will be ineligible for one week. At that time, the student will check with each of his teachers to see if he is passing. A student must be passing in all subjects to become eligible again. Below 65 is agreed to be "failing."

No one teacher may give any one student more than 5 citizenship deficiency points.

Wheeled vehicles are unknown in Tibet.

Shakespeare Project

New Paltz, Dec. 17—One senior English class, which read Macbeth during November, completed several interesting projects on Shakespeare's play. The blackboard along one wall was decorated with a colorful mural of outstanding scenes in the play. Students composed modern parodies of the story in various styles, arranged booklets of quotations with illustrations, and prepared artistic interpretations of many scenes, including a three dimensional portrayal of Duncan's murder and a striking pen and ink drawing of the three witches. Others enacted scenes or memorized famous quotations.

Furniture Truck Damaged

A partly loaded furniture truck was considerably damaged when it struck concrete guard posts and plunged down an embankment along Route 9W after it was in collision with another truck near the Connelly road intersection about 2 p. m. Wednesday. No one was reported injured. According to a sheriff's office report, the truck owned by Union-Fern, 269 River street, Troy, and driven by John Joseph Roosa, 50, 631 Abeel street, Kingston, received considerable damage to both sides when it knocked over three guard posts, went between two trees and down a 10-foot embankment after colliding with the left front end of a truck driven by Albert Vogel, 62, of 92 Abeel street. Deputy Sheriff Arthur B. Smith investigated. He reported the furniture truck contained only a few pieces of furniture at the time of the accident. (Freeman photo)

BABSON on BUSINESS

New York City, Dec. 17—Will you take a few minutes and discuss with your family what your community would be today if there were no automobiles? What would be the condition of real estate, employment, and general business if we were driving only horses and buggies?

It is estimated that 25% of the business today is due to the automobile. Industries, from the making of steel and the refining of oil to the thousands of factories, gas stations, automobile agencies, and new roads, exist today because of this industry.

The automobile industry (especially the self-starter), plus the installment credit business, plus new home building, plus modern advertising must be thanked for the high wages, full employment, and general prosperity of today. Unfortunately, however, now that the economic setup accepts the automobile industry as here to stay, some other new industry must come along to keep the prosperity ball rolling.

More New Industries

The radio industry, including broadcasting, has prolonged prosperity. Television has also been a big help. No new invention has yet equalled in economic importance, however, the internal combustion gas engine. This is now being used not only for automobiles and trucks, but for boats, ships, farm machinery, airplanes, and even Junior's lawn mower!

Some big new industry must develop to provide work for the rapidly growing population and to take up the slack caused by the labor-saving machinery which employers are installing to offset labor's demands for higher wages and fewer hours. Furthermore, such is needed to enable the Federal and State Governments to reduce taxes, which basically depend upon profits.

Air Conditioning

Looking over the field, I believe that air conditioning may partly fill the need. People in the United States now do not need more clothes, or more transportation, or more entertainment. Some do need more homes and furnishings. But the great majority of families already have these things. To sell something big to these 40,000,000 families the appeal must be made by offering more comfort.

This makes me bullish on the air-conditioning business. I believe that, in a few years, there will be more air-conditioning units than radios. New models are coming out which will look like furniture and not depend upon an open window. The demand for them will increase until every room of most houses and office buildings will require an air conditioner. Labor unions are already calling for air-conditioned factories.

Positions and Profits

I suppose that most of the models will be made by a few large companies. Their sale, installation, and maintenance will, however, give employment and profit to millions of people. Any young man who is determined to know more than anyone else in his community about air conditioning has a great opportunity.

One more thought. We must not forget the possibilities of solar and gravity energy—also of atomic power. Just now the latter is handicapped because of the limited supply of uranium. But this will be only temporary. Uranium or its equivalent will be "bred" or made partially synthetically. This could provide cheap power, available anywhere, and revolutionize industry and foreign trade, and perhaps eliminate war. This is really our best bet of all. Get into step with the coming Atomic Age.

PEACE AND SECURITY

Millions of Americans will observe the Christmas season with renewed hope for a peaceful world. This hope has taken on new meaning because America's ever increasing strength is the most potent single factor in assuring lasting peace.

Coupled with this spirit of hope, millions of us will enjoy a personal peace of mind which stems from freedom from financial worries.

Much of our country's mounting strength and our personal sense of well-being has been attained through one simple continuous act—our regular investment in United States Savings Bonds.

Savings Bonds are a fine investment. They represent not only future savings for the education of our children, the purchase of a new home, retirement, or an emergency reserve fund; they represent, more importantly perhaps, shares in America.

As our savings grow and we become individually more secure, so does America become more secure. As shareholders in this country, we actively resist totalitarian ideologies. Our collective military and economic strength, gained in large measure through our bond purchases, is a bulwark against aggression.

At Christmas time every prayer we fervently utter is for peace. Unfortunately it appears that prayers are not enough. We must work and strive for peace. One of the best ways we can do this is to continue investing regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds.

STAGGERING THE TRAFFIC

If more people want to enter an elevator than it will hold, some have to wait. Robert Grodis of New York City, writing in the New York Times, suggests that the same principle be employed in the case of the drivers who want to enter the congested districts at one and the same time. He would allow some to enter on certain days, others on others. A colored tag, conspicuously displayed, would show what days had been assigned to a particular car.

Something like this may have to be done ultimately, though its enforcement would be difficult in the extreme. Years ago an English weekly was spoofed by an American correspondent into stating that one large Western city permitted cars with odd license numbers to enter the town on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Those with even numbers were allowed to enter on the other three weekdays.

The hardest question to answer is why people want to enter traffic jams when there are other modes of transportation.

GETTING GOOD MINDS

Much thought has been given from time to time on how to get the ablest possible people to accept government employment. The latest move in this direction has been made by Attorney General Herbert Brownell. He announced recently that each year 30 jobs in the Justice Department will be awarded to the best law school graduates in the country.

The Department of Justice should prove a fine training ground for the young attorneys. It will acquaint them with the workings of government as no school ever could and from these young attorneys may come able legislators of the future.

Other departments of the government might well study Attorney General Brownell's plan. Anything that can be done to bring competent people into our government is worth the effort.

TREE LOCATION IS IMPORTANT

In hotels, churches, hospitals and other places of assembly, and in hallways of offices, the location of the Christmas tree is of vital importance.

The National Board of Fire Under writers warns that trees should not be located near any stairway or elevator, which would provide an upward draft. They should not be near entrance doors or otherwise block exits; in offices they should not be in such a position as to block exit from that office.

ON A PLANE

Most plane riders like to sit quietly and read or ponder, but now that some of the larger planes have a section in the tail where it is permissible to smoke a cigar or a pipe, something of the atmosphere of the Club Car develops and it is good. The cigar or pipe smoker usually is also a talker.

The Club Car atmosphere is one of argument, drunk or sober, and sooner or later everybody gets into it with varying degrees of knowledge and wisdom. In a country in which everybody is entitled to express his opinion, whether he has ever done an hour's work to justify having an opinion, it is possible to hop, skip and jump from this to that and the time passes pleasantly.

Curiously, there is less talk about Eisenhower than about McCarthy, less about taxes this year than about spies—and all this is pro and con. I was traveling to and from New York and Chicago immediately after the Bermuda Conference and the President's speech, "Operation Candor," but few raised the subject either in the plane or anywhere else. What seemed to be uppermost in most people's minds, at that moment, was what would come of the fight between Eisenhower and McCarthy, what was the Canadian game about Gouzenko, what is the truth about Fort Monmouth, why did not the FBI catch all the spies and put them in jail, is McCarthy running for President, will there be a third party, etc., etc., along these lines.

To say, as Adlai Stevenson remarked in a speech, that our people have fears is an understatement. Our people are, on the whole, not only afraid; they are disgusted. Stevenson ought to know because in his State of Illinois the disgust is so thick, it can be cut like a cheese-cake. And the disgust has nothing to do with Eisenhower or Truman, much less with Stevenson, but with both political parties, which, in the minds of too many, are guilty not only of mismanagement but of failing to disclose mismanagement. There is a growing feeling in the land among the citizens that the politicians of both parties are in a conspiracy to cover up the mistakes made by any politician.

This lack of confidence in the leadership of both parties is what makes Joe McCarthy so interesting to so many. He is being discussed even by those who dislike his personality and the way he does things.

But these discussions go a little further. Many businessmen cannot understand the combination of Republican and Democratic leaders who, in order to pursue a foreign policy that does not produce the results hoped for, are now promoting an international trade policy which is already being felt by a large number of American industries. Already the coal, oil, chemical, electrical equipment, lace, costume jewelry and other industries fear that they will be put out of business, that there is already a clinical indication of unemployment, and that sooner or later, Congress will be faced by the good, old American struggle over the tariff, with, however, this anomaly that a Republican Administration may be supporting the concept of free trade while the Democrats will be demanding legislation protecting particular commodities.

It is this switch in position that often arouses citizens to wonder whether either of the two major parties stands for anything as a party. If both parties are identical in practices, those who need to or desire to express a contrary point of view will have no avenue for expression except in Left-Wing groups coordinated by the Communists or as extremists on the Right. The two-party system often breaks down because the parties cease to have meaning and become nothing more than collections of ambitious personalities.

The greatest value of Robert A. Taft to the Republican Party was that in the years when Roosevelt and Truman tried to destroy that party by pleas for what they called unity, he adhered to a set of traditional principles which men and women could support because they believed in them. No such sharp demarcation of principle is apparent in these days and in conversations among the businessmen I meet in the country, the disapproval is being expressed in no uncertain terms: no one knows how to sit on both sides of a table at the same time.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

HEART DISEASE IN CHILDREN

You have heard frequently about childhood's greatest enemy, rheumatic fever. It gets its name because so many youngsters have attacks of rheumatic fever and, in certain cases, the heart is damaged with each attack. So many young children and young adults have been dying of heart disease following attacks of rheumatic fever that throughout the world a vigorous fight is being fought by physicians to prevent what is called "strep" throat because it is caused by the streptococcus organism. If attacks of strep throat can be prevented, it naturally follows that rheumatic fever can be prevented and, following this, heart disease of this type can be prevented. In its daily fight against heart disease, the American Heart Association has had its research workers throughout the world study heart disease in children and has issued a booklet under the title "Heart Disease in Children." The booklet states: "We can do more to help or heal children with heart disease than was thought possible two dozen years ago and studies now under way hold even more hope for the future."

Most heart disease in childhood is the result of rheumatic fever, which usually begins between the ages of five and fifteen.

Unfortunately, rheumatic fever steals so quietly over the child that parents and, sometimes, physicians do not recognize it until it has launched its attack and has done some damage to the heart.

"There is no specific test for diagnosing rheumatic fever. It often appears in such a mild form that the patient doesn't look or feel particularly ill." Also, it may lie dormant or quiet for a time and then suddenly flare up in a more severe form. And even when the infection is inactive, it may occur after a mild streptococcal infection of the throat or tonsils and each time it may (but not always) cause damage to the heart.

How may parents suspect and so prevent rheumatic fever? "Most attacks of rheumatic fever are preceded two or three weeks by a streptococcal infection—sore throat, scarlet fever, infection of middle ear and tonsillitis. If we can protect the child from streptococcal infections, then we can be reasonably sure of preventing a recurrence of rheumatic fever. This usually means a daily dose of the sulfonamides or consistent use of penicillin."

The following list of signs and symptoms that parents and teachers should consider as a warning that something is wrong is: failure to gain weight, pallor, poor appetite, fatigue, frequent colds and sore throats, unexplained nose bleeds, unexplained fever, pains in arms and legs, history of previous rheumatic fever, poor showing in studies.

"Scuse Me, I'm Gonna Go Inta Hidin' fer a While"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—The Communist spy-hunt hysteria in Washington reached a new high last week when it was discovered that even Boy Scouts now have to be given loyalty checks. The story came out this way:

Every year, for the White House Christmas tree-lighting ceremonies, Boy Scouts have been used as ushers and guides. They're to be used again this year when President Eisenhower lights the tree for the first time.

Scout headquarters leaders have been visiting the various council meetings in and around Washington to make the necessary arrangements. At one meeting in northwest Washington, a quota of 25 Eagle and other high-ranking Scouts was called for from the troops in that area.

"Get their names in early," said the headquarters man, "because the Secret Service has to check them all for a security clearance."

Christmas Dinner Again
The 250,000 American soldiers now stationed in western Germany will again this year invite almost that many German people to share a Christmas dinner with them, as part of the continuing program to promote good relations. This program was begun two years ago, when some 20,000 West Germans were Christmas guests of the U. S. armed forces. Last year the number was jumped to 175,000. It will be raised this year.

This American-German goodwill program has paid off in the American occupied zone. Sixty-seven per cent of the German people want U. S. military forces.

to remain in Germany, according to a recent survey for the U. S. High Commissioner's office. Only 19 per cent wanted them withdrawn.

Shift Rebuilding Site
To keep U. S. troops in Korea busy, the Army has shifted its major rebuilding and repair program for tanks, trucks and other vehicles to a depot outside Pusan. Previously this work was done in Japan, with the use of a lot of Japanese civilian labor. It is a huge salvage operation. Shifting the work from Japan to Korea saves a lot of money on shipping costs, besides strengthening Korean defenses.

Neat Dodge
A neat little congressional censorship dodge has been revealed by the U. S. Marine Corps. Inquiries to the Marine Corps public relations office on the military record of Reserve Lt.-Col. Joseph R. McCarthy in World War 2 are now answered by a stock reply that all information on this subject must be obtained from the office of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Navy Day Still Here
Department of Defense still hasn't been able to stamp out the observance of separate anniversary days by Army, Navy and Air Force. In the interests of unification, it was ordered several years ago that there would be only one "Armed Forces Day." The unofficial Navy League, an organization of active supporters of everything that will help the Navy, continues to keep Navy Day very much alive. For this year's celebration on Oct. 27, the Navy League promoted more than 50 dinners. Speakers were Navy officials and admirals.

No Headlines for Him
Dr. Samuel M. Brownell of Connecticut, new head of the U. S. Office of Education, hit Washington at just about the same time his brother, Attorney General Herbert Brownell, became embroiled in the Harry Dexter White case.

Office of Education officials at first wondered if Dr. Brownell would have the same flair for hitting the headlines as his younger brother, but they've relaxed now. They've found the older Brownell to be an extremely quiet, mild-mannered individual, too completely absorbed in the problems of education to get involved in any front-page controversies.

Secure Department
Security regulations in the State Department are now so tight that officials aren't allowed to leave any papers on their desks when they leave their offices for any reason whatsoever. The "Out," "In" and "Hold" baskets are supposed to be put away and officials are told to work from a clean desk at all times.

The result is that even routine memoranda and newspaper clippings have to be dug out of files whenever a State Department officer wants to refer to them.

Fourth Ruled Out

Santa Ana, Calif. (AP)—Considering the sloppy way most people tack it, ave. pl. or dr. to mailing addresses, postmen have had a legitimate beef in one subdivision. Mail, public utility and delivery men have been required to find addresses on Quatro Way, Quatro Lane, Quatro Place and Quatro Drive, all close together. So the four streets have been renamed Figueroa, Bewley, Gunther and Jackson, respectively.

Collects Cigar Butts
Tarragona, Spain (AP)—Pedro Ramirez Olaseguita has a collection of famous cigar butts. It's cost him about $2,500. He has a network of theatre ushers, hotel bellboys and nightclub restaurant waiters working for him. The butts are enclosed in glass cases with cards naming the owner and where the find was made. Most expensive so far was one ex-King Farouk of Egypt smoked in Rome. It cost $12.

Questions—Answers
Q—How many times has the United States been without a vice president?
A—Fifteen times. Seven succeeded to the presidency on the death of the president in office, seven died and one resigned.

Q—What countries comprise the Arab League?
A—Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Trans-Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Q—Why are the small, light-colored moths called "millers"?
A—Because their wings and body are covered with a white or light, flour-like powder, just as the clothes of the old-fashioned miller were covered with flour dust.

So They Say...
Our (U. S.) tax system is such a wilderness of taxes for revenue and taxes aimed at social reform and taxes such as the capital gains tax based on Marxist theories that it is a herculean task to break through this jungle.

Greenlease Kidnap-Murderers Go to Deaths Without Rosenberg-Type Pleas in Behalf

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Dec. 17—For many weeks now the American people have known that Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady were condemned to die for kidnapping and killing Bobby Greenlease.

Yet, strangely enough, not a plea has come from any ministers of the Gospel or from committees of citizens or from organizations anywhere in the world pleading for clemency and arguing that capital punishment is wrong.

Not so long ago the Rosenbergs, convicted of being Communist spies, were condemned to die, and there were all sorts of petitions filed at the White House and the Department of Justice deploring capital punishment and arguing a commutation of sentence.

In London and Paris and Rome, as well as in New York city, the Communist newspapers day after day kept up a constant agitation, and many a well meaning person who had not the slightest connection with Communism was duped into pleading for clemency on the ground that capital punishment was too severe.

There were no such committees in evidence to save the slayers of Bobby Greenlease and no public demonstrations or picketing of the White House. Even the Supreme Court wasn't importuned to do something about it. All this seems to happen only when persons accused of aiding Soviet Russia with information on atomic secrets are caught and condemned to death. Thus the hollowness of the claim is demonstrated.

For the slayers of the Kansas City boy committed a crime that, while heinous and deplorable, meant the loss of one life, while the Rosenbergs were plotting to aid Soviet Russia to develop atomic weapons to help kill tens of thousands of Americans.

"The Daily Worker" in New York was the Communist spearhead of the movement to save the Rosenbergs, but so far as an examination of the last forty issues reveals, that newspaper hasn't taken the slightest interest in this conspicuous case of capital punishment in a Missouri gas chamber. It merely accentuates the nature of the things in which "The Daily Worker" is interested—efforts to undermine morale in America and to produce friction in our midst.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Dec. 17—Unlike some of my colleagues, I never was stage-struck, never hung around Shubert Alley, and never wanted to ham it on television or radio or refer languidly to a benefit that I played last week at the Refuge for Unwed Fathers in Staten Island. Thus you will understand my bashfulness in approaching the story of a joyous success at a New York night club and restaurant which, in its long time, has been the scene of some rugged spats and the rendezvous of such high, low and nondescript characters as go out on the town at night.

It is the place where I first saw J. Edgar Hoover and last saw Bill Hawkins, of the Scripps Howard outfit, who knew that money was for spending for fun. It is called the Versailles and the entertainment is a sort of musical comedy, with a plot, yet! That is to say, four GIs come home in a plane, simulated by a buzzing sound discoursed by the drummer, and one enfold the girl of his dreams, nicely impersonated by a pretty blonde named Paula Stewart. The GI is Don Liberto, but I do not undertake to call the entire roll even though there are only 12, including two toothsome babes who sit in little hanging birds' nests alongside the stage and, with Naive effrontery, prattle explanations now and again to keep the public couurant with the story.

I used to do sports and in the course of that experience covered the so-called praying colonels of Central college who went crazy and beat Harvard in a good Harvard year, and other teams of "destiny" in various fields. There is a tide which, taken at the flood, results in such wondrously happy turns in life as those which are the real plot of this silly little charade.

The producer, George White, was a famous man years ago, who, unknown to me because I have little taste for theatrical matters, went down and out and was regarded as a total and permanent has-been. I do him no wrong in so saying because he seems to have it on his mind and refers to it over and over with a slightly hysterical exultation over his conquest of disaster. White, the owners, tersely identified as "Nick and Arnold," were casting about for a new show to justify their robust built-in covet-er-charge, and one of them mentioned White, another practical business man shook his head and said in the esthetic phrase of the showman that White would stink out the place.

Nevertheless, the partners exhumed him and Mr. White, revived and with nostrils flaring, decided to build a show out of rejects. Accordingly, every girl and boy in this cast was one of those slump-shouldered figures of the cartoonist's type-file, who had tried out for a previous show at the same show house and had missed.

Irving Caesar, who wrote some of the music and helped around generally, sat down by me and said, "that girl is a story by herself. A high school teacher that I know in Brooklyn kept telling me about a wonderful, talented kid they had there, but you know those talented, high school amateurs! So after we got this thing together, I met her again and she said 'I see you hired Fay De Witt.' I said, 'Who told you?' She said 'she did. She is the kid I have been telling about.' De Witt is a tall, washed-blond with a derisive humor, a good, loud voice and seriously comparable to Ethel Merman and Beatrice Lillie. I am assured that she observed her 20th birthday only recently, but this girl, who was "auditioned" and excused last year, has the professional maturity, poise and command of a hardened old trouper. There is an episode in which she and two other rejects, Dorothy Keller and Margie Duncan, bewail the personal and legal problems of ladies of accommodation, rising to a howling climax "jail, no bail," which, like some emotion, is not susceptible of description.

Here are three young comedienne, all pretty and apparently happy to be without envy or flitching, ablaze with the delight of youth in the throes of a big success in a hard business in the very citadel of cynicism. Their joy communicates itself to the house all around them. This year they got the job. Joe E. Lewis, who was banged around and even terribly slashed by murderers bootleggers in his unconquered days in the Chicago underworld, saw them twice in a week and endorsed them and the whole show as a phenomenon, something like a successful five-horse parlay.

The Keller girl, married and the mother of a small child, is not merely a great dancer but a superior athlete, for there are instants in her individual show when she would take off into space and splatter herself all over it.

There is not a stick or shred of scenery from start to finish. Mr. White seems to be a little dazed by all this. He likes to show an expensive gold cigarette-lighter, affectionately inscribed from the cast.

"After we opened and we could feel that we were in," he said, "the kids got together back there and took up a collection and bought me this. I have handled a lot of stars on Broadway but this is the only time in my life that this has happened. They are a grand bunch."

He has been thinking of moving the whole show into a theatre as the first half of a revue type of musical comedy. Isn't that always the way? Here they are booming along, a beaten man guzzling success and an inspired little company of girls and young men, all interdependent and greatly indebted to some soiled and gritty show-house where the "critics" would view them with bigoted eyes which despise the tavern entertainers and cut them down in a week.

Coldest Weather Hits in South

(By The Associated Press)

The season's coldest weather, which has chilled the mid-continent for several days, struck deep into the southland today.

It was below freezing early today in parts of Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama. In Corbin, Ky., the mercury plunged to 4 degrees below zero.

It was zero and below again today in sections of the north central states, with readings of -7 at Rockford, Ill., and Alexandria, Minn. Chicago again was near the zero mark for the second straight day.

Some of the low readings in the southland included 18 at Atlanta, 26 at Montgomery, Ala., 29 at Jackson, Miss., and 31 at Jacksonville, Fla., and 49 at Miami.

Prospect of Warming

There was a prospect of some warming for the snow-covered midwest areas during the day. Southwesterly winds were forecast for most of the mid-continent. Early today the winds blew over northern Minnesota and for the first time in several days temperatures were about zero.

However, the cold air was expected to remain over much of the eastern and southern areas for at least 24 hours. Warmer weather prevailed in the Rocky mountain region while temperatures were near seasonal levels in the far west. Rain fell in the Pacific northwest from northern California northward through sections of Oregon and Washington. Another rain spot was in extreme southern Texas. Snow flurries fell in parts of the Great Lakes region and in the northern Appalachians. Skies were clear in other parts of the country.

Pay Raise Extension Granted O&W Road

Middletown, Dec. 18 (AP)—Trustees for the bankrupt New York, Ontario & Western Railroad said yesterday the road has federal sanction for a three-month extension of a 7½-cent hourly pay raise to its employees plus paid vacations for operating workers in 1954.

Elbert Oakes, trustee counsel, said a federal court also approved an agreement whereby the railroad, if unable to meet the cost of the pay raise each month, may pay it later on an accrued basis. Wage rates were not available.

The employees received the 7½-cent boost some months ago but it would have been canceled had not the court extended it for the first three months of next year.

The line, with about 1,300 employees, operates between Weehawken, N. J., and upstate New York.

Can't Stand Stoppage

In applying for retention of the wage increase, the trustees told the court the road could not survive a work stoppage should the application be denied.

After the first three months of 1954, the trustees presumably will ask the court again to determine the wage set-up for the remainder of the year.

Oakes said the railroad currently is paying off a loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corp., for the purchase of Diesel locomotives. He said the loan might be paid off by next June.

Court action was postponed until Jan. 13 on a trustees' application to classify the road's tax claims and priorities.

Such classification would determine, should the line be sold, how much it must pay on outstanding tax claims and which branches of government would have priority in collections.

Child Is Ready To Leave Hospital

Indianapolis, Dec. 18 (AP)—A two-headed, four-armed baby boy, six days old and thriving like a normal infant, was ready today to leave Riley Hospital.

Dr. John B. Van Nuys, dean of the Indiana University Medical Center, said there is nothing to prevent the father from taking the baby home.

The hospital has kept the baby on the "critical" list but only because doctors have virtually no precedents for such a malformation.

Dr. Van Nuys said examinations disclosed that the baby has two stomachs, joined to a single intestinal tract. It had been determined previously that there is only one heart, and doctors had thought there was only a single set of internal organs.

Second Birth Is Reported

Belo Horizonte, Brazil, Dec. 18 (AP)—The birth of a second two-headed baby in the Western Hemisphere in a week was reported here last night by doctors attending her at Sao Vicente Hospital.

The infant, a girl, was born at home four days ago to Mrs. Gerarda Francisca De Jesus, the wife of a rural storekeeper. As examination showed she had two completely separate hearts and respiratory systems, one digestive system, four arms and three legs. Authorities said the mother had previously had four normal children.

Greetings Are Sent

Seoul, Dec. 18 (AP)—South Korea's President Syngman Rhee today sent Christmas greetings to UN troops with the "fervent prayer that the bonds of friendship and comradeship forged in this Communist war can promote the cause of peace on earth." Rhee referred to the Korean war several times as though it were continuing and at one point told UN forces: "Only by defeating the modern barbarians can we bring peace to the earth and ensure the eternal reign of justice and mercy. If we do not fight now and win," Rhee warned, "we shall have to fight again much closer to your homelands. It could be much worse then, especially for those you hold dear."

Extension Is Granted

Los Angeles, Dec. 18 (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes yesterday was granted an indefinite extension of his deportation hearing to allow his attorney time to take depositions in New York. The Argentine-born husband of actress Rita Hayworth is now in New York rehearsing for a television show. The Immigration Service seeks to deport Haymes, charging that he re-entered the continental United States illegally after visiting Miss Hayworth in Honolulu last June.

At Least in Quantity

London, Dec. 18 (AP)—Dmitri Shostakovich topped Beethoven last night—in quantity if not in quality. The Russian composer's 10th symphony got its first performance in Moscow. Beethoven wrote only nine. In announcing the premier, Moscow radio said the 10th is in the standard form of four movements.

Hit-Run Driver
Strikes Hydrant

Saugerties police are still investigating the alleged hit-run destruction of a fire hydrant Wednesday which caused an interruption of water service to some village residents as well as to the Ferroxcube Corp., Bridge street.

W. W. Stifler, general manager of the Saugerties concern, said today only minor delay was caused by the damage to the water hydrant.

He said the water-cooled furnaces were out about 12 hours as were the water-cooled presses. Stifler said that only two men who would normally work on the midnight to 8 a. m. shift were idled by the mishap.

Meanwhile, the Saugerties Police Department said this morning that no new details had developed and that no arrests had been made.

The report of the damaged hydrant was made to the Saugerties Police Department about 5:30 p. m. Wednesday.

To Erect Atom Pile

Munich, Germany, Dec. 18 (AP)—Germany's first atomic pile probably will be constructed by Nobel prize winner Prof. Werner Heisenberg near Munich, Bavarian Economics Minister Dr. Hanns Seidl said today. Germany will be allowed to resume peaceful atomic research after the West German peace contract comes into effect upon ratification by France. Seidl said research will center on radioactive isotopes for medical and technical purposes and that the pile would be too small to allow construction of atomic bombs.

Says Plan Illegal

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—Nathaniel L. Goldstein, attorney general of New York state, said today the Pennsylvania Railroad's plan to reorganize the Long Island Rail Road "is wholly illegal and contrary to the public interest." Goldstein's statement, presented to an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing by Asst. Atty. Gen. Abe Wagman, said he would "not seek to formally intervene, but shall content myself with the presentation of my official point of view."

Trailer, Cargo Damaged

A fire started by a charcoal salamander in a tractor trailer of the Smith Transportation Co., Montreal, caused a fire that damaged the trailer and some of its mixed cargo this morning. Firemen were called at 8:51 a. m., to Broadway near Chestnut street, where the truck stopped. The salamander was used to prevent chemicals from freezing. The fire apparently started, firemen said, when the load shifted and a small portion of the cargo caught fire.

Youth Says . . .

involved in the plot, and she reported to police.

The Bronx county grand jury will be asked today to vote indictments against Fraden and Wepman, both charged with homicide and locked up in the psychiatric division of Bellevue Hospital. Bronx authorities said both Fraden and Wepman denied being homosexual.

Book 'Whole Life'

As Fraden buried his nose in a book of poetry he carried during the police routine. Asst. Dist. Atty. George Tilzer said: "That book is his whole life. He said it was one of the things his mother resented . . . 'get out of the apartment and act like a boy,' he said she would tell him when she saw him reading the book or other books of poetry."

Fraden, an only son, collected an estimated $150,000—including a $25,000 insurance policy—after his parents' death and quickly squandered about $50,000 of it. He had a $200-a-month room at the fashionable St. Moritz Hotel, and bought automobiles including an $18,000 Rolls Royce which he planned to pick up in England soon.

He fancied himself a millionaire, and flashed $1,000 bills. He even wrote a will leaving to friends and institutions a fortune of $1,525,000 he didn't possess. At the end of the phony will there was a notation: "I declare myself to be of sound mind and body."

Wepman said that Fraden's parental allowance had been cut and that the roommates were low in funds before the murders—told questioners:

"I went along with the (murder) idea. I expected to get my commensurate share of the inheritance, but I only got $120 in small amounts."

De Luca said authorities of Sullivan county—a New York state resort area—have reopened investigation of the supposedly accidental asphyxiation deaths of Fraden's aunt and uncle in a summer cabin. Sullivan County District Attorney Ben Newberg told De Luca that investigators were coming here to question Fraden and Wepman.

The aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Max Donner of the Bronx, died last August, less than two weeks before the Fradens. Mrs. Donner and Mrs. Fraden were sisters. The Donners were believed to have died when the flames of a gas heater went out during the night.

The Donners left $40,000 in a will to two minor children, for whom guardians have been appointed by a judge.

Young Fraden, a six-footer, had moaned convincingly to detectives about the tragedy of four deaths in the family in so short a time. Fraden, who graduated from New York University last June, appeared relaxed and unconcerned last night after the confession.

His friend Wepman, with whom he had had a bloody fight Wednesday morning, shouted jovially to other prisoners: "We're going to the chair. Where are you going?"

St. Anne Fire . . .

from the Volunteers," and they worked well," Chief Murphy said.

A fireplace was burning in the basement, the chief said. The chimney is in the rear of the building and the chief thought it possible that a spark might have started the fire on the roof. The firemen had to break through sections of the ceiling and side walls to get at the blaze, the chief said. He reported 3,050 feet of 2½-inch and 150 feet of 1½-inch hose used.

Police at Scene

Sgt. Robert Murphy, of the local police was notified of the fire at police headquarters at 8:40 p. m. He dispatched Officers Meyer Levy and Harold Bowers to the scene and notified Police Chief Raymond Van Buren, Lt. Sgt. Lemuel Howard, Officers Earl Schoonmaker, Peter Camp, and Special Benjamin Osterhoudt, were at the scene.

Chief VanBuren said traffic on Broadway was diverted around the area of the fire through Delaware avenue, going down, and over East Chestnut and Livingston street to Delaware and Hasbrouck avenues, coming the other way. Traffic from the downtown section was sent uptown over Hasbrouck avenue.

Late Bulletin

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Dreamy, poetry-quoting Harlow Fraden and his writer friend, Dennis Wepman, today were indicted on first degree murder charges in the weird cyanide champagne cocktail murder of Fraden's parents.

The quick indictment came after only a half day of questioning witnesses before a Bronx grand jury.

Detectives Check
Upon Burglaries

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons today began investigation of a series of burglaries along Foxhall avenue.

Three places were entered and one other attempt was made during the night, the detectives said. Cigarette and game machines were broken into and in one place a cash register was forced open. The amount of money taken was undetermined.

Money was taken from a cigarette machine at the Zates gasoline station at Foxhall and Flatbush avenues. Money was taken from a cigarette and bowling machine at Foxhall Tavern, 30 Foxhall avenue, and at the Emerick gas station, Foxhall avenue and Grand street, money was taken from cigarette and candy machines and the cash register was forced open.

An attempt was made to enter the front door of the Van Kleek gas station at Flatbush and Foxhall avenues. The detectives obtained finger prints at all places.

Two Hurt in Accident

Two persons received minor injuries when an automobile and a farm tractor collided on Route 209 at Accord about 5:10 p. m. Thursday, state police report. Troopers said that the automobile, driven by Salvatore Speziale, aged 63, of Kenilworth, struck the rear of the tractor, causing it to climb the embankment on the left side of the road, and knocking its operator, Byron C. Van Demark, 46, of Accord, to the pavement. Both men received lacerations and contusions and said they would be treated at their homes, according to the state police report.

'Fence' Is Tested

Ottawa, Dec. 18 (AP)—Canada's Defense Research Board said today that the "McGill Fence," a Canadian-designed early-warning radar device to detect enemy planes striking across the Canadian north, has been tested successfully. The board's annual review said the hush-hush barrier, which eventually will supplement joint Canadian-American radar chains in the far north, was the outstanding accomplishment of the board in 1953. Its details are secret.

Ultimatum May
Backfire Upon U.S.French Elections Possible
Cause; Opinion
Is Divided

Paris, Dec. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower's administration has aimed an ultimatum at France to ratify the European army treaty at a highly strategic moment, but it's a toss-up whether it will backfire.

In a month, thanks to their presidential election, the French will have a new government whose major task will be to decide on the controversial proposed rearmament of Germany.

The opinion in West Europe appears evenly divided on whether Secretary of State Dulles' call for action this week increased or diminished the chances of the French Parliament ratifying the army treaty to set up the European Defense Community.

French Opinion

A segment of French opinion holds that France must bow to the American ultimatum unless she is ready to do without American money. This probably means Frenchmen would have to pay more taxes and do without a lot of their present luxuries.

In what is now widely known as well thought out and planned strategy, Dulles selected a news conference during the Atlantic Pact ministers' meeting to drop his bombshell. He earned, in effect, that America might pull her troops and her aid money out of Western Europe unless the EDC is ratified soon.

The six-nation army would bring West German troops into the defense buildup against any Soviet attack.

But Dulles said America is more concerned that the ancient rivals, France and Germany, should bury the hatchet than she is with getting German troops, if they don't get together and if they commit suicide by blundering into war, "they will have to do it alone," he declared.

Greenlease Killers

negative and Mrs. Heady said aloud: "No."

As the death chair strap was being tightened about her chest, Mrs. Heady, with a little chuckle, told the guards:

"It's tight—I'm not going anywhere."

Then she called out to Hall: "Are you doing all right, honey?"

"Yes, mama," Hall replied.

The prison was quiet as the notorious pair went to their deaths. Seven degree cold kept the crowd outside the prison at a minimum.

As the officials witnessed walked through the darkness of the prison courtyard, Christmas decorations made by convicts sparkled on the trees and bushes.

Elaborate security precautions had been made, with extra guards and highway patrolmen brought in for the execution. But the extra men were not needed. There was no outburst from the 2,500 convicts.

As the parade of witnesses followed the death cars down to the gas chamber, one convict shouted from his cell: "Pour it on 'em."

Buy the prison yard was unusually busy for execution night.

Warden Ralph N. Eidson, who tripped the lever which sent cyanide gas curling around the faces of the kidnapers in a white cloud, said the pair had been "just as normal as they could be" since they entered the prison Nov. 20.

"I don't think we've had any more normal prisoners than they were down here," Eidson said.

Both Were Reconciled

The Rev. George L. Evans, Episcopal rector from Kansas City, Kan., who was Hall's spiritual advisor, said both prisoners were "absolutely and completely reconciled" to death.

"They are prepared to meet Almighty God," he said after praying with them in the death chamber.

The death chamber door clanged shut on them, barring them forever from the world they shocked, at 12:04 a. m. (CST). Thirty seconds later Warden Eidson tripped the cyanide lever, dropping the granular powder into two jars of sulphuric acid beneath their chairs.

Their heads jerked back there were a few convulsive movements, and at 12:12 a. m. Hall was dead. His partner's death came two minutes, 10 seconds later.

Some of the official witnesses had figured in the unusual Federal Court trial when a jury in Kansas City recommended the death sentence Nov. 19.

Hall's attorney, Marshall K. Hoag, of Pleasanton, Kan., an old friend of the family, was one of them.

O'Neill Is Present

But the only representative of little Bobby Greenlease's family present was Norbert S. O'Neill, Kansas City business associate of the child's father. O'Neill was one of the men who negotiated with the kidnapers and dropped a record $600,000 ransom near a bridge east of Kansas City Oct. 4.

"I came down here," O'Neill said after the execution, "to keep faith with a vow I made several weeks ago. I don't like to see people die, but these people deserved to die. I came down here to see the sentence carried out because I thought it was a just sentence."

Last audible words of the pair before the door was sealed were: "Thanks for everything," and "goodbye" to the guards who had watched over them in the last few days.

But they kept on talking to each other for the few seconds it took to seal the chamber.

Could Not Tell

Did they talk about the little boy they planned to kill even before they abducted him? Their few months of illicit love together? Or were they just two human souls trying to brace each other for death?

Witnesses peering through the thick glass windows of the gas tank couldn't tell.

All the witnesses knew was what prison and law enforcement officials have reported in recent days: That Hall did not regret the crime so much as he did his own stupidity in getting so drunk he was caught.

He was arrested in St. Louis Oct. 6 after police were tipped that a man with a lot of money was on a drunken spending spree. Hall led officers to Mrs. Heady's hideout a few hours later. They had planned a life of luxury with the $600,000 they got in their vicious plot. But today $440 worth of chemicals killed them.

Robot Is Reported

Stockholm, Sweden, Dec. 18 (AP)—A Swedish pilot told today of seeing a mysterious object flash by a tremendous speed and Stockholm newspapers immediately labeled it a "Russian robot." "Russian Robot From Base at Libau" said a six-column headline in Aftonbladet, the city's largest newspaper.

mit reports. The total number of sites may then be weeded down to about eight or 10, and these eight or 10 are submitted, with accompanying reports, to the board of directors. The board may narrow the possibilities further, may order additional surveys and reports, before making a final decision.

Often, a large firm does not wait until the need arises for a new site before it begins gathering data. It anticipates possible future need and has its engineers begin their investigations so that reports are ready when and if conditions warrant expansion or migration.

A case in point is that of the Corning Glass Company, recently rumored to be considering Kingston as a site for a new plant. A direct contact with the Corning Glass main office ascertained that the firm had sent representatives to Kingston during the past few days, looking over possible new plant sites.

A spokesman said this was part of the company's long-range planning program and does not mean they have any immediate plans for putting up a new plant.

In an earlier case, the Aluminum Company of America (Alcoa) conducted extensive investigations locally and appeared to be about to locate a plant in the town of Ulster. The plan fell through, however, and it was announced publicly that one reason the firm decided against Kingston for intermediate expansion was a fear that a sufficient labor supply would not be available here.

This conclusion was based upon the results of a questionnaire sent out to all families by the Chamber of Commerce. Although Chamber officials felt that the returns for that type of mail survey were good, another survey in Pennsylvania had shown better returns, and on a comparative basis showed the Pennsylvania location potentially more suitable.

It has been pointed out that the information acquired by the firm about Kingston will undoubtedly remain on file, and should the firm consider additional expansion at a later date, Kingston will get its share of consideration.

During the Alcoa negotiations, the Kingston water department prepared a detailed study of its potential for supplying water to the site. This, unexpectedly, became valuable later when, in November of this year, International Business Machines Corporation consulted water department officials over the possibility of supplying adequate water to the same site.

Thomas J. Watson, Sr., chairman of the board of IBM, announced Nov. 7 that the corporation will expand facilities to Kingston as soon as it receives an expected defense contract. That decision, also based upon a thorough investigation, apparently took into consideration the matter of public interest and labor supply, but being closer, IBM had a chance to evaluate those conditions by experience, rather than by questionnaire.

"We selected the site in Kingston because of our experience in the Hudson valley," Watson said. He described the Hudson valley as "an excellent source of skilled workers."

Some insight into how comprehensive is the matter of plant selection was given by Sidney Fish in the Journal of Commerce article cited above. The DuPont company, he pointed out, studied 87 possible sites before selecting Kingston, N. C., as the location for its new DuPont plant. A total of 83 different factors were weighed in arriving at the decision.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

A friend of mine was wringing his hands and worrying about the chance of a depression.

I asked him, then, whether he expected to remain in his present position during the next year, and if he thought he would continue to draw the same salary he now earns.

He said: "Yes."

I asked him whether he expected to pay his mortgage as usual, feed his family as usual, and take care of fuel, light and telephone charges.

He said: "Yes."

So I asked him, further, if he thought he might not buy a new car, perhaps, or a dishwasher, or even a new television set.

He said: "Yes, I plan to get at least one of those items."

Did he plan to buy any clothes for his family?

Yes, he certainly did.

I queried him still further. Did he figure on keeping up his investment program?

"Of course," he answered.

So, I said to my hand-wringing friend:

"Multiply your own contemplated expenses for goods and services by millions more. Now, where do you see a depression in the future?"

The man said he'd never thought of it that way before. He was smiling again as he walked away.

Two Held in Thefts

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—A Long Island man who reportedly stole 500 or more automobiles was held with his wife today in connection with a New York-New England car theft ring. The FBI identified them as Nicholas Pugliese, 53, a former convict, and his wife, Evangelina, 39, of 1721 North Thompson avenue, West Brentwood, N. Y. They will be arraigned today on charges of conspiracy involving interstate transportation of stolen cars. Leland V. Boardman, special agent in charge of the FBI New York office, said four other New Yorkers and a New Bedford, Mass., dealer also had been arrested. He did not identify them.

establishment of a fulltime governing body with an adequate staff.

The three commissioners — Chairman Henry M. James of Hudson, Herman R. Grannis of Buffalo and Hamilton S. Gaddis of Malverne—made it clear they would be willing to step aside.

Dewey in effect superseded the Harness Racing Commission recently by appointing a three-member Morland Act Commission with orders to turn harness racing "upside down."

The investigating agency, headed by Bruce Bromley of New York city, now is holding hearings there.

The informant said Dewey was determined to govern harness racing "so effectively that gangsters, hoodlums and other undesirable characters will be kept out of the sport entirely."

The governor's ideal commissioner was described as a man who would be "tough but fair—who could and would crack the whip when necessary and whose personal integrity would command respect in himself and in harness racing."

Of the housing discussion, the informant said the governor believed slum areas were mushrooming faster than they could be cleared. Dewey also was reported to fear that some new housing would become substandard over a span of years.

State and city inquiries into tenement conditions are underway in New York city, in the wake of a Brooklyn tenement fire that took seven lives in June, 1952.

Dewey and the policy makers were said to be looking for a new approach to the housing problem. The informant said they expect a report from Herman T. Stichman, state housing commissioner, to provide further information.

Wagner reportedly will ask the administration to set up a half-billion-dollar fund to aid school construction, authorize changes in the city's business tax, and restore the city's share of the tax on parimutuel horse racing bets to the former 5 per cent rate.

At the conference were Walter J. Mahoney, Senate majority leader; William H. MacKenzie, chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee; Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern; Budget Director T. Norman Hurd; GOP State Chairman Dean P. Taylor, and three Dewey aides.

The harness racing probe stemmed from the murder of Thomas Lewis, head of Local 32E of the AFL Building Service Employees Union, last August at his Bronx apartment house.

The investigation of the shooting led to an inquiry into alleged labor shakedowns at Yonkers Raceway.

Lewis' Union represented 800 of the Raceway's 1,200 employees, and it was charged that the local had obtained jobs at the track for more than a score of men with criminal records.

The Yonkers probe led to another at Roosevelt Raceway at Westbury, L. I. Three indictments charge William De Koning Sr., the Raceways labor boss, with conspiracy, extortion and grand larceny.

Study Is Approved

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission has approved a study by the Tennessee Valley Authority of "long-range possibilities of commercial nuclear power." Similar studies, the AEC announced yesterday, are being made by various private industrial groups. All costs of the one-year study will be paid by TVA and its recommendations will be submitted to the AEC.

New York Has 14 Degrees

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—The coldest weather of the season hit New York today, with a temperature reading of 14.4 degrees at 6:30 a. m. This was six-tenths of a degree lower than the previous low for 1953—15 degrees recorded last Feb. 2. The forecast was "continued very cold" for the day, with the highest temperatures ranging from 25 to 30 degrees, with clear skies. Tonight is expected to be a few degrees warmer than last night.

We always have, (and always will), give "our best" in service, free decorative advice, better quality furniture, bedding, etc., at guaranteed lower prices. In order for us to establish, and maintain, the reputation for dealing in good, strong, substantial furniture, we can't handle the cheaper lines of low grade merchandise that many stores carry. But with our much lower overhead, we can, and do, sell you the better lines with a guarantee of satisfaction at prices you'd pay for poorly constructed furniture in stores with higher operating costs.

No matter what they tell you when they attempt to discourage your coming up here for comparisons in values—Remember this: Any man in business has to show a profit in order to stay in business! If he has a higher overhead, it must be figured in with the selling price to you—otherwise he loses money. No businessman that we know of, in the Kingston area, is losing money. Therefore you may rest assured of this fact—You're paying a share of the operating overhead when you buy furniture in any store—and the fellow with the higher overhead cannot give you the same value in quality, at the same low price. ## PITCHING HORSESHOES

By BILLY ROSE

GULLIBLE'S TRAVELS

This morning, unannounced and unabashed, Major Timothy Morgan breezed into my office.

"William, my boy," said the old carnival hustler, "I'm here as a public-spirited citizen to ask you to warn the populace of New York that there are grifters and grafters in their midst."

"What makes you think the average New Yorker is an easy mark?" I said.

"It's my experience," said the self-commissioned Major, "that the moujiks of Manhattan are the most gullible suckers in our fair land. What's more, the finger of history backs me up."

I took two tens from my wallet and waved them under his point-setta of a nose. "The green money says you can't make that state-mint stick," I said.

"Done and done," said the Major. "May I first introduce as evidence the Lozier Hoax?"

"Never heard of it," I said. "You're about to," said Morgan. "Back around 1824, a retired contractor named Lozier, a man of wit and substance—decided to have a little fun for himself. So, one day he confided to several of his cronies that his dear friend, Mayor Stephen Allen, was worried that the heavy buildings of downtown Manhattan were causing the city's foundations to buckle, and that it was only a matter of time before the lower half of the island would snap off and sink into the bay."

"The only solution, Lozier told them he had advised the Mayor, was to 'saw the island off' at what's now 14th street, tow it out into the bay, turn it around and then fasten the heavy end securely to what's now 15th street."

"Believe it or not, sire," the Major went on, "the urbane New Yorkers swallowed this howler as if it were Kentucky dew. Within 24 hours, thousands of them were anxiously whispering about the coming calamity and nodding sage approval of Lozier's daring solution.

"Encouraged by this, Lozier went further. He proceeded to blueprint plans for the manufacture of one-hundred-foot saws with three-foot teeth, and football-field-length oars to row Manhattan into the bay, reverse it, and row it back.

"Finally, came the morning to start work and, led by a file and drum corps, a thousand volunteers marched all the way from Bowling Green to the 'sawing-off' spot designated by Lozier. By the time they got there, of course, Lozier had holed up in Brooklyn where he hid out for weeks, laughing fit to bust at the naivete of the big-town sophisticates . . ."

"You had to go back a long ways for that one," I said to Morgan. "How's for an example during my lifetime?"

"Well, here's one just two years after you were born," said the major. "In nineteen hundred and one, a professional sharper named Oscar F. Spate approached George C. Clausen, head of New York's Park Commission, with an interesting proposal.

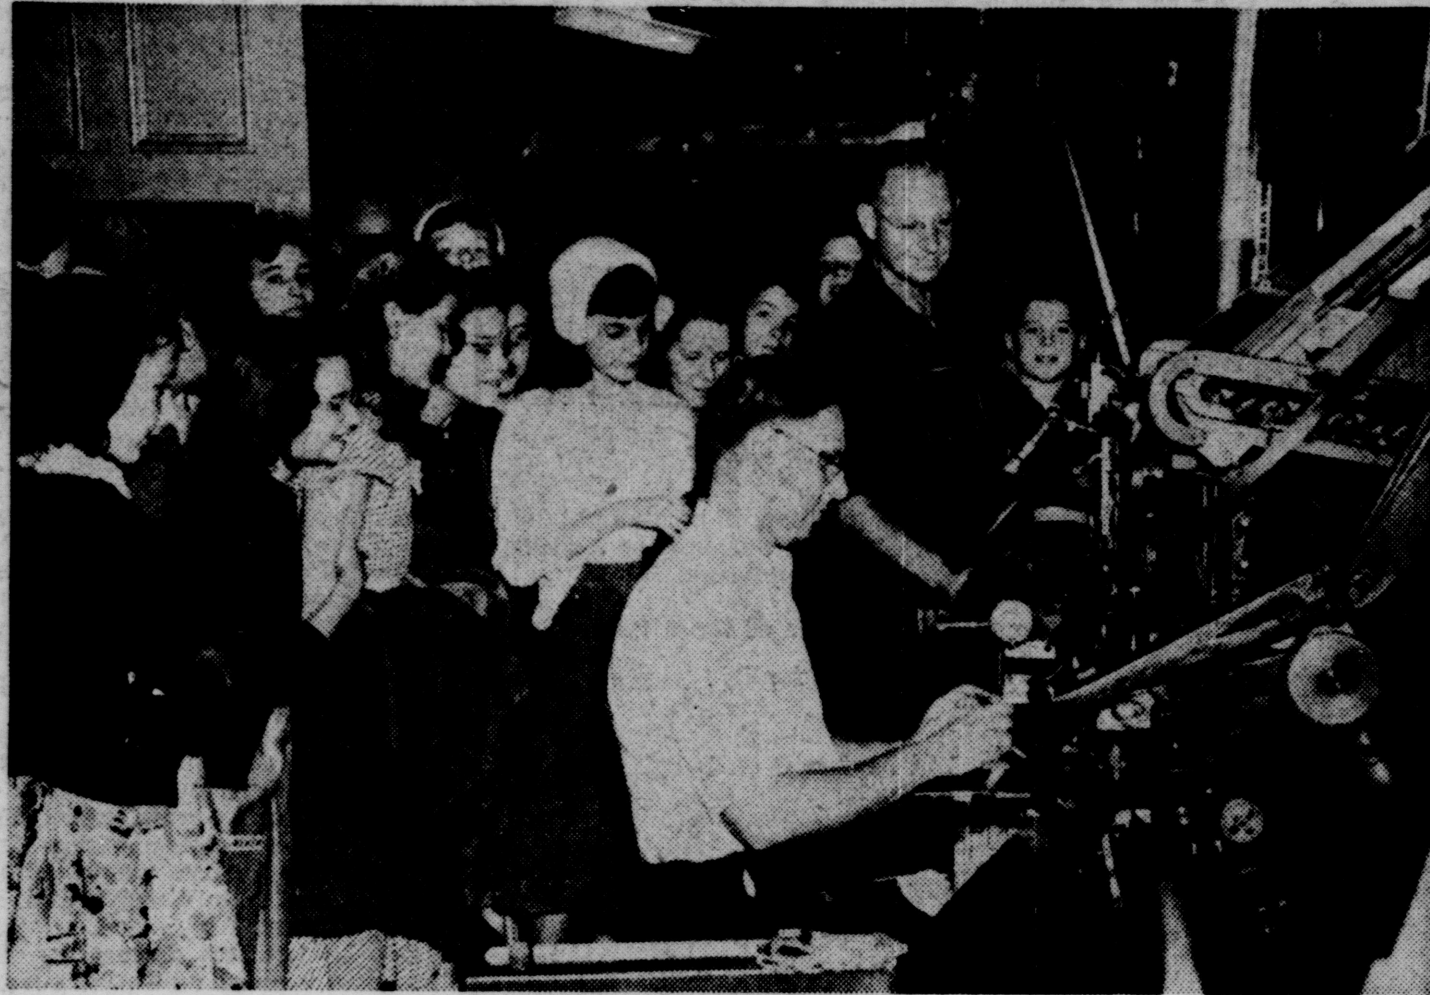

"I'd like to replace the benches in our parks," he said, "with privately owned wooden rocking chairs and charge the public a nickel to sit in them."

"Mr. Clausen, for reasons best known to himself, agreed it was a dandy idea, and on his own authority gave Spate the go-ahead signal."

"On June twenty-second, nineteen hundred and one, Central Park blossomed out with rows of bright green rocking chairs, attended by well-muscled collectors in uniforms of even brighter green. The question was a delicate one: would the public pay without protest? Well, for a time it did.

"Elated, Spate ordered six thousand additional rockers and moved them into the other parks. These rented chairs, he claimed self-righteously, would keep bums and loafers out of our recreation

School 7 Pupils Watch Freeman Linotype

As part of their program of visiting local industries, pupils of Public School 7 visited The Freeman to study production of a newspaper. The eager youngsters watch John H. areas . . .

"Well, sire," said the Major, "the rockers might still be there but for Mother Nature. That summer New York was hit by the worst heat wave in twenty years, and thousands of people poured into the parks for relief. Spate's bullies collected from all who sat down, but one night, a flush with success, they made the mistake of becoming truculent with a couple of men who refused to pay. When the collectors tried to remove them forcibly from the rockers, the pair got to their feet, let go with several six-inch jabs, and unconscious four of the annoyers."

"The crowd which watched this brief setto was delighted, and a few minutes later, as crowds sometime do, it developed into a mob which began to scour the park and flattened every collector in sight."

"On July twenty-ninth, Commissioner Clausen, to fight off the whippers about his motives, bought the bright green chairs from Spate and presented them to Central Park. And until the rockers wore out, across each chair, painted in huge white letters was the word, 'FREE.'"

"Here's your twenty," I said to my old midway chum. "I'm not sure you've proved anything, but you rate that much for research."

"Would the names of the two chaps who led the revolt be worth another two dollars?" asked Timothy.

"It all depends," I said. "Their monikers," said the Major, "and I swear this on a stack of billboards, were Terry McGovern, then the featherweight champ, and Joe Humphreys, the famous fight announcer."

Istanbul (AP)—Assisted by more than a score of Soviet experts, Bulgaria has completed the new "Lenin Steel Works" at Dimitrovo, outside of Sofia. Radio Sofia broadcasts of opening ceremonies referred to the new plant as a "giant factory" which took 56,000 tons of concrete in the building. The broadcast said: a train of railway cars 470 miles long would be required to carry away the earth dug out at the site. Yet the initial capacity was listed at only 50,000 tons of steel and 40,000 tons of iron products annually.

At special ceremonies this week, in Troy, the genial gentleman, with a youthful and benevolent spirit, received the honorary medal from Apollo Lodge 13, F. & A. M., in the presence of two colleagues, Larry V. Bogert of Stone Ridge and Emil G. Boessneck, Jr., of this city.

The three went to Troy together for the special and historic event in the annals of the Masonic order.

Boessneck, a member of Port Jervis Lodge 328, is a 35-year affiliate of the Masonic order, and Bogert has belonged to Garden City Lodge 1083 for 27 years.

11 of Class Present

Edson, who was master of Apollo Lodge in 1912, received the medal with 11 others, who joined the fraternity with him in 1903. There were 42 in the class accepted into the Masons while Frank Deal was master, and he too was present for the awards. Twelve of the class are still living, and only one was unable to attend the ceremony.

In bestowing the medal, a spokesman for the Masons praised Edson for his interest in activities of the fraternity and urged that the example he set be followed by others.

Bogert and Boessneck said the program was impressive and they were proud to be present as associates of the honored guest, whose reputation as a civic-minded Kingstonian is widespread. Both of them are fellow members with him of the local Rotary Club, of which he has been secretary for more than 10 years, and holds a citation from that organization for his service.

Edson has been with the recreation department since 1934, part of which time he served as superintendent during the years when more youthful men were away for World War 2.

Young in Spirit

The Grand Old Man is as young in spirit as any of the kids at the downtown recreation center, according to Andrew J. Murphy 3d, the department superintendent, who, with others marvels at his vitality and stamina.

There were 42 in the class accepted into the Masons while Frank Deal was master, and he too was present for the awards. Twelve of the class are still living, and only one was unable to attend the ceremony.

In bestowing the medal, a spokesman for the Masons praised Edson for his interest in activities of the fraternity and urged that the example he set be followed by others.

Bogert and Boessneck said the program was impressive and they were proud to be present as associates of the honored guest, whose reputation as a civic-minded Kingstonian is widespread. Both of them are fellow members with him of the local Rotary Club, of which he has been secretary for more than 10 years, and holds a citation from that organization for his service.

Edson has been with the recreation department since 1934, part of which time he served as superintendent during the years when more youthful men were away for World War 2.

Receives Praise For Work Among Youth and Needy

Harry L. Edson, assistant superintendent of the Kingston Recreation Department, and 81 years young, has another honor to add to the list of accolades bestowed upon him—a 50-year membership medal from the Masonic fraternity.

At special ceremonies this week, in Troy, the genial gentleman, with a youthful and benevolent spirit, received the honorary medal from Apollo Lodge 13, F. & A. M., in the presence of two colleagues, Larry V. Bogert of Stone Ridge and Emil G. Boessneck, Jr., of this city.

The three went to Troy together for the special and historic event in the annals of the Masonic order.

Boessneck, a member of Port Jervis Lodge 328, is a 35-year affiliate of the Masonic order, and Bogert has belonged to Garden City Lodge 1083 for 27 years.

the city, and as one who makes it a practice of doing good for everybody, was happy to restore his "green hornet" automobile of ancient vintage, so he could make his rounds.

Honored by VFW

Joyce-Schirick Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, when it instituted its policy of giving an award for the citizen of the year, picked Edson for the honors, and showered him with plaudits for his work.

Clergymen of all faiths have lauded his work, taking cognizance of his helping-hand policy in behalf of the youth of the community and those beset by misfortune, who would miss many of the little comforts of life if it weren't for one like him.

In the meantime, while all of these honors, and nice things are being said about him, Edson humbly carries on.

When he was queried about Christmas plans, he laughed heartily, and mused to a reporter, "This year I might even don a Santa Claus suit, if I had the weight to fill it out." Edson goes around 106 pounds.

The next important event in his life, after Christmas and New Year's, is January 16, his birthday.

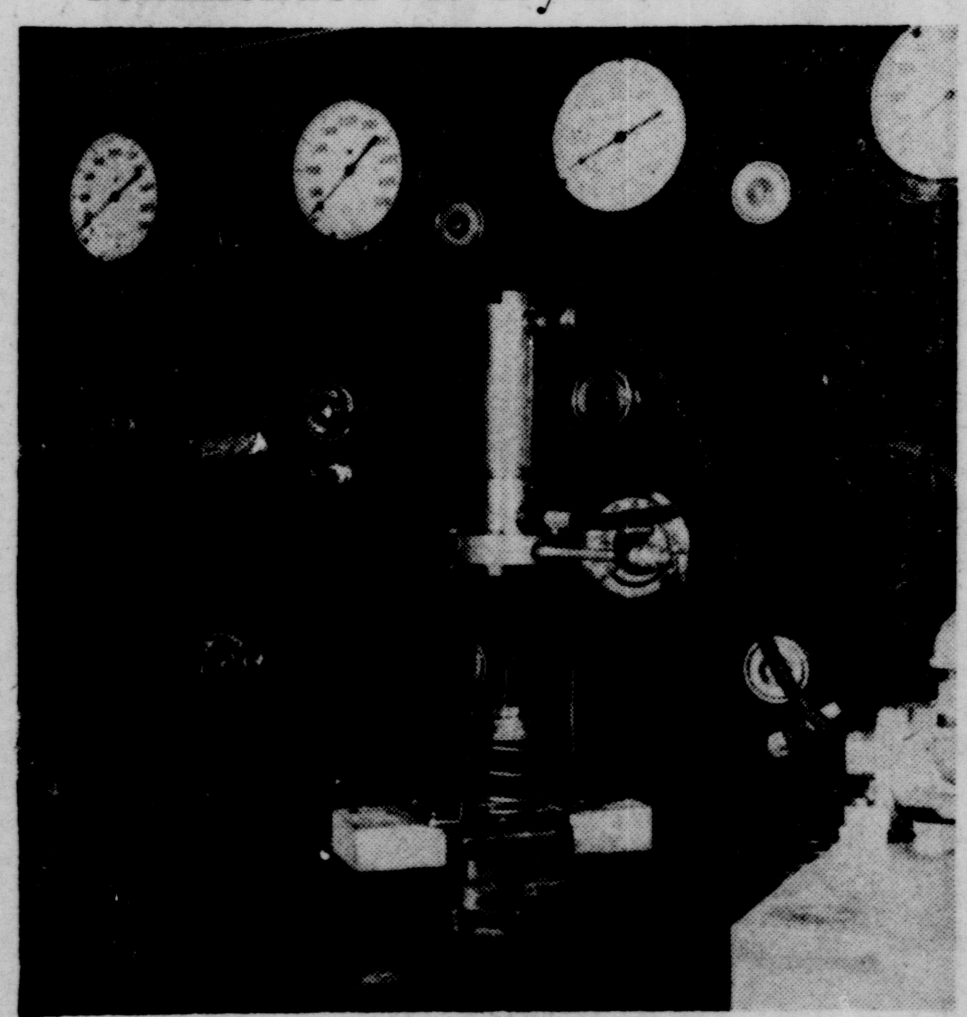

Big Family Makes Beer

Milwaukee (AP)—Millions of descendants of a famous Danish family have moved to Los Angeles so a brewing company (Pabst) can produce in a new plant on the West Coast exactly the same beer turned out here for generations. The family is Saccharomyces Cerevisiae, a pure culture yeast imported from Copenhagen in 1887 by Fred Pabst and maintained since then in a carefully guarded pure state. A small container of the yeast has been shipped to a new Los Angeles plant.

Bride in Candlelight Ceremony

MRS. JOSEPH R. MOTRIE

Irene Marie Price, Joseph Robert Motrie United in Marriage

Miss Irene Marie Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Price of 33 Rock street, became the bride of Joseph Robert Motrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Motrie of 59 Florence street, in a candlelight ceremony held Saturday, Dec. 12 at 3:30 p. m. at the Emanuel Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Ernest L. Witte of this church performed the double ring ceremony. The organist, Walter J. Kidd, played O Perfect Love, and other appropriate selections. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums, palms and candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight slipper satin fashioned with a Mary Queen of Scots basque neckline, long pointed sleeves and a boned collar with motifs of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The full gathered skirt terminated in a cathedral train. Her veil was ivory silk illusion fingertip length, caught to an ivory satin half bonnet outlined in seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, white carnations and pearls.

Mrs. Frederick W. Peters, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of wedgewood blue styled with a sculptured velvet bodice and a portrait neckline. The floor length three-tiered skirt was of nylon net over taffeta. Her headpiece was a velvet cloche with a nose veil. She carried a blue velvet muff trimmed with pink Pinocchio roses and holly.

The bridesmaids were, Miss Barbara Kelly, cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Joan Peters and Miss Carol Tegart, cousins of the bride, of Kingston, and Mrs. John Keizer of Port Ewen, aunt of the bridegroom. Their gowns were identical in style to that worn by the matron of honor in a coral-berly pink. Their headpieces were velvet cloches and they carried matching muffs with pale pink Pinocchio roses and holly.

Miss Cathy Keizer of Port Ewen, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length gown of wedgewood blue nylon net over taffeta. She carried a matching blue velvet muff with deep pink Pinocchio roses and holly.

The best man was Frederick Peters, cousin of the bride. The ushers were Donald Snyder, Barry Buddington, cousin of the bridegroom, and Frank McMahon, Jr., of Kingston, and Alvin Avery of Olive Bridge.

A reception was held at the Immanuel Lutheran Parish Hall, where a dinner was served for 125 guests.

The couple left for a wedding journey to New York. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit and coat with red accessories and a white orchid corsage. On their return they will make their home at 33 Rock street, Kingston.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and attended the Moran Spencerian School of Business.

Verdict of $22,500 Awarded Woman For Bus Injuries

Maria Kramarchuk of North Flatbush was awarded a verdict of $22,500 against the Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc., and its driver in Supreme Court Thursday for injuries which she suffered in November 1948 when a bus on which she was riding left the road and tipped over on its side near the junction of Route 32 and the Ulster Landing road.

Mrs. Kramarchuk, a machine operator employed at a local dress shop, has been unable to work since. She was injured when a seat of the bus struck her when the bus tipped after leaving the road and striking a tree.

James H. Hyer with John Scully as trial counsel appeared for plaintiff and Stanley Johnson was trial counsel for the defendant bus company.

The defendant alleged the accident was due to the construction of the road which had been widened by the state and which had become softened by rain and was unable to support the weight of the bus. It was alleged there was no negligence on the part of the driver but that contention was not supported by the verdict of the jury and a verdict against the bus company and driver was returned.

Third Ballot

Vincent Auriol. Never before in French history have as many as three ballots been required. Each ballot is a four-hour affair, since each member must walk to the rostrum and drop his secret ballot into an urn.

The voting takes place in the old legislative chamber built in 1871 in the courtyard of the Palace of Versailles, ancient home of French kings.

Views, Beliefs Play Role

Though the presidency is largely a ceremonial post with almost no power, the candidates' views and beliefs were playing a big part in the corridor politicking accompanying the race for the sought-after post.

The Communists after the first ballot threw their support to Naegelen because he and the Socialists, like the Reds, oppose the European army. Some observers thought the Red switch might be the kiss of death.

Because Bidault's party is as close to a church faction as any in France, he was opposed by various groups, particularly the radical Socialists. The many-times foreign minister's staunch advocacy of the European army plan also ruled out Socialist support for him, but gained him strength in quarters which want to see western defense strengthened by German troops and the advancement of European unity.

Delbos favors the European army but his candidacy produced little excitement either for or against him in the early stages.

Laniel was the favorite of the rightist members.

There still was talk that a deadlock might bring out a compromise choice. Former Premier Henri Queuille, a radical Socialist, and the retiring president, Vincent Auriol, were those most mentioned.

Pearl River Firm

filter plant to the Jockey Hill road.

A bid by the S & S Construction Co., of South Fallsburg was lower than that of Beckerle-Brown, but this was rejected on recommendation of the department's consulting engineers who noted that the contractor was not ready to start immediately. The engineers also cited other reasons after study of the bids.

Other Bidders

The South Fallsburg contractor bid $98,376.50. The next lowest bids were submitted by Phillip Totoneilly, of Newburgh, $107,475 and James Berardi, of this city, $111,542.50. The highest bid submitted was by the Shanahan Construction Co. of Ellenville who bid $148,806.40.

The pipeline project is part of the water department's $540,000 improvement program including the erection of a 500,000-gallon standpipe in the 12th ward at an estimated cost of $230,000, an additional large pipe line in the Benedictine Hospital area, improvements at the operations plant at the equalizing reservoir and extension of water service to the site in the town of Ulster where IBM proposes to build a factory.

Cars Collide on Downtown Hill

Vincent Curtin, 50, of 104 West Pierpont street, suffered lacerations of the head and nose in a two-car accident at Spring and Wurts street at 4:45 p. m., yesterday. He was taken to the Benedictine Hospital in the Schultz ambulance and his condition today was reported as "good." Officers Edward Edwards and John Crespiro reported that the car of LeRoy Sleight, 60, of Sleightsburg, was headed south on Wurts street and Curtin's sedan was going west on Spring street when they collided. The entire front of each car was reported damaged and police said Robert J. Steele, of 67 Wurts street, reported damage to his house and property. The one car (above) ran upon the lawn and into the house. (Anner photo) authorities how he was injured, but it was generally believed he slipped on the ice which formed from the water relayed to the fire.

21 Persons Escape

The rapidity with which the flames spread through the building prevented its occupants from getting sufficient clothing to protect them from the eight-degree cold.

Clad in Pajamas

Most of the children were clad only in pajamas, and Rocks himself fled the house in his undershirt and shorts, which was all the clothes he had during the rescue operation until a Bloomington Fire Company member provided him with a coat.

The neighboring family of Martin Irving was evacuated from its home 50 feet away from the burning building.

Bloomington Fire Department, Ulster Hose and the Huron Fire Department's tank truck shuttled water from a quarry hole to protect the Irving home and a nearby garage and to bring the flames under control in the already completely involved Rocks home.

Apparatus, Road Iced

The freezing cold weather caused water to form ice over the fire apparatus, the road, and on the firemen themselves.

Mrs. Rocks told authorities she was awakened when smoke filled the upper rooms. She aroused the children and others.

According to information later gathered by Deputy Sheriff Eisele, Rocks made his way out of the burning building and with a neighbor, Martin Irving stood on the ground under a first floor roof to catch the children as they were dropped into their arms by Mrs. Rocks and Mrs. Burlington, who made at least three trips into the smoke and flame-filled house to rescue the children.

Carries Two Out

With two children still missing, Rocks searched through the building found them under a bed and carried them to safety.

Meanwhile, Irving had procured a ladder and placed it against the roof to bring the two mothers to safety.

A pet dog was reported lost in the fire.

Rocks said later he believed the steam boiler blew up, the flames ignited bottled gas tanks which also exploded and spread flames throughout the structure.

Works in Brooklyn

Rocks is employed by a newspaper distributor in Brooklyn and had been commuting daily, he told authorities. He would have left for Brooklyn Thursday afternoon except that he was unable to get his car started, he said. The family moved into the building only three weeks ago.

Fire Chief Vincent Finnerty of the Bloomington department directed the firefighting efforts.

At 1:35 a. m., Chief William Norton of Ulster House requested assistance from the sheriff's department in keeping the road open for water shuttling operations, and Deputy Eisele was dispatched. At 2:05 a. m., Eisele called for an additional man to help with the traffic situation, and Deputy Fred Brinkman went to the scene.

Taken to Neighbors

The scantily clad children and adults were taken in by Mrs. Richard Sagar, a neighbor, and by members of the Bloomington Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary. According to reports, the auxiliary had been holding a rummage sale and brought some items from that sale to be used.

The Ladies' Auxiliary also served coffee to firemen and evacuees. Sandwiches were prepared by Mrs. Charles Reilly, wife of the general store proprietor in Bloomington.

Mrs. Gerard Betz, Red Cross volunteer worker on duty, was contacted through the sheriff's office, and arrangements were made to secure the sizes of the children and adults so that clothing could be provided.

By mid-morning, Mrs. Evelyn D. Hubbard, executive director of the local Red Cross chapter, reported a quantity of clothing had already been procured and was on its way to the families.

Mrs. Sagar, meanwhile had used up all the food in her house and those of several neighbors in providing milk and warm food to the children.

Deputy Eisele notified Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg of the need, and Vredenburg in turn contacted Henry J. Fisher of the Ulster County Welfare Department at his home.

Fisher reached Eisele at the Sagar home and authorized him to obtain needed food from the Reilly store.

Mrs. Hyman Gershuny and Mrs. Carl Peterson, of Creek Locks, took in some of the children to house them overnight. Others in the Rocks family remained at the Sagar home.

Praise Is Given

Much praise was given this morning as the excitement of the night died down and those involved began to review all that was done for them by the neighbors, the firemen, and the sheriff's deputies.

Rocks himself said he had the "greatest praise and highest regard" for the quick work of the firemen, neighbors, and the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Sagar said all the people involved were "very, very wonderful." She said she particularly wanted to commend Deputy Sheriff Eisele, who she pointed out had offered "a most unusual" human touch in assisting the families and seeing that the emergency was brought to the attention of Red Cross and Welfare Department officials. At the time she was issuing the statement, she said she did not know the name of the deputy, but "he's one of the finest men Ulster county has ever had."

Bomber Wreckage

when it disappeared. It last contacted its home base by radio yesterday afternoon. It was then some 100 miles south of Iceland. All aboard were navy fliers.

The weather was vicious, with heavy rain and snow cutting visibility to near zero during the early part of the day, but was improving later.

730 Without Jobs

11, the jobless insurance load increased to 730 in Kingston and 92 in Ellenville.

Layoffs Scattered

Average weekly payments in November a year ago was 360 plus three veterans.

The insurance load is composed of a scattering from all industries with no predominating group, employment security officers reported. Included are river transportation, construction, resort, some manufacturing and intermittent and part-time employment in needle trades.

345 Placements

Placements made by the local office in November this year, however, continued at a relatively high level.

A total of 345 persons were placed in new jobs, an increase of 14 per cent over a year ago. A total of 327 new applications were received, leaving an active file of job seekers at the end of the month of 718 persons.

Placements made included 171 in manufacturing, 68 in construction, 58 in service including private household, 30 in wholesale and retail trade, eight in agriculture and 10 miscellaneous.

98 Students Report

The local office of the division of placement employment insurance during November provided counseling and testing for 93 seniors in county high schools who are planning to work after graduation. The service is extended to assist students in selecting field of work by informing them of labor market conditions and opportunities in this area. Tests are also given to determine the student's aptitude for a variety of occupations.

Anthony C. Hart, employment security manager, is in charge of the local office, which is located on Pine Grove avenue near Broadway.

Burns Holes in Floor

The blaze burned holes in the floor and siding of the building, said Fire Chief Joseph Murphy said the fire is believed definitely to be of incendiary origin. The barn has not been used since October, Deputy Fire Chief George D. Matthews said. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Ray McGahan, who was on her way to work, he said.

Detectives Clarence Brophy and Frank Sammons began their investigation of the fire today. State police and the sheriff's office are investigating the other fires in the county.

Four in Ruby

Four of the suspicious fires were in the Ruby-Mt. Marion area this month. On Dec. 15 one was discovered in a barn on Byrne Lane, Ruby. Before that a slight fire, believed definitely of incendiary origin, was discovered at the unused Ruby schoolhouse. On Dec. 4 the Rose Stice barn in Ruby burned, and on Dec. 5, the Archie Van Benschoten barn at Mt. Marion was destroyed along with a cow, pony and 300 chickens.

Also under investigation is a recent fire which destroyed the Red and Gun Club building at New Paltz and another at Saugerties.

"proposed amendments to the Atomic Energy Act" with the congressional leaders including Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) and Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), chairman and vice chairman respectively of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Secretary of Defense Wilson told the North Atlantic Treaty nations early this week the administration will ask Congress to change the law so this country can share atomic knowledge with fellow members of the Western Defense Alliance.

Would Join Discussion

The President said today Secretary of State Dulles and Foreign Operations Administrator Stassen would join in this morning's discussion of foreign affairs. Cole and Hickenlooper were to stay on for the foreign affairs talk and were to be joined by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Rep. Chipfield (R-Ill.) chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

In addition, Eisenhower said Mrs. Hobby would discuss "Social Security and aid to the physically handicapped, as well as continuing a discussion (which began yesterday) of the health plans of her department."

Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb.) chairman of a House Ways and Means Subcommittee on Social Security, was invited to take part in this discussion.

Color TV Still Far Off

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The gateway to a color television era has been pushed open anew by the government, but color TV for the average fan is still many months and many hundreds of dollars away. Virtually no color receivers are available to the public now and probably won't be for months, or longer. And when they do come, industry sources estimate a color set with a 12½-inch picture will cost about $1,000 at first. Mass production is expected to bring the price down later. For broadcasters, too, color TV will mean big outlays of money.

Lion's Wreath Stolen

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—A thief has stolen the Christmas wreath from one of the two stone lions in front of the main public library building on 5th avenue. George

Robinson, city buildings maintenance head, discovered yesterday that the wreath was gone. It took three men to put up the decoration, Robinson said, adding that to get in down must have "taken some doing."

Plaintiff alleges he had stopped his car at a stop sign on Route 213 before entering 209 and the car of defendant came up from the rear at a fast pace, skidded and after knocking down guard posts struck the Brown car which was driven across 209 and into a bank. It was a rainy day. Brown suffered a very severe injury to his neck and

7,000 Cheer Ship Arriving at Oslo

Oslo, Norway, Dec. 18 (AP)—A throng of 7,000 persons lined Oslo's waterfront last night to cheer the liner Stavangerfjord after her 2,050-mile Atlantic trip without a rudder.

The big liner, whose captain steered with the vessel's twin propellers after she lost her rudder in a hurricane Dec. 8, docked only two days late.

"The worst experience I've ever had at sea," said Capt. Olaf Bjørnstad, the veteran skipper who brought the ship of the Norwegian American Lines through wild mid-Atlantic gales.

Many of the Stavangerfjord's 644 passengers were Americans of Scandinavian origin from Minnesota and Wisconsin, going to the old country for Christmas.

The liner was three days and 1,000 miles out of New York when the accident occurred. The rest of the trip took nine days.

First another liner and then a British tug escorted the Stavangerfjord, but not until she reached the narrow Oslo fjord was she taken in tow.

Will Make Appeal

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower will make an appeal for world peace in a television and radio talk to the nation Christmas Eve. The President, probably with Mrs. Eisenhower at his side, will speak for about three minutes from the White House at about 4:30 p. m. next Thursday. Then he and the first lady will go to the White House south lawn and take part in the traditional lighting of the nation's Christmas tree. Eisenhower will speak briefly at that ceremony, too.

Sees 850,000 New Business Firms in U. S. by Year 1975

Our nation's economy may undergo a tremendous expansion in the next 22 years, according to the National Association of Manufacturers.

Addressing a dinner session of the Industrial Management Club at the YMCA last night, Stanley L. Phraner, NAM economist, said that an association study showed that by 1975, the United States may have attained:

1. A population of 190 million, or 33 million more persons than in 1952;
2. A work force of 88.6 million, or 22.1 million more than in 1952;
3. A gross national production of $700 billion, as compared with the 1952 gross national production of $348;
4. A net addition of 850,000 business firms over the 4,050,000 companies in existence in 1952.

Based on Commerce Figures
If recent and long-term relationships between growth in population and number of businesses are maintained, the NAM speaker explained, there will be approximately 850,000 additional business firms coming into existence by 1975 to help provide the goods and services for the expanded population and expanded purchasing power of our nation.

The NAM estimate, he said, was based in part on U. S. Department of Commerce figures on number of business firms and in part on a study of the NAM Research Department which showed that over the years business enterprises increased in number about as fast as the country's non-farm population.

"The net addition of 850,000 business firms by 1975 over the 4,050,000 companies in existence in 1952," he said, "means more opportunities for enterprising Americans to build successful business and, by serving the needs of their fellow citizens, to earn the rewards that success in business affords."

Both the expansion of the labor force and the number of business firms, he said, meant that immensely more goods and services could be produced, with America's standards of living as reflected in the increased national gross product and the increased per capita income—rising to still higher levels than those of today.

Criticizes M. S. Control
The major uncertainty, however, he stressed was whether Americans "adequately understood" their economic system to "guard against changes which would weaken or destroy the incentives it provides for people to work and produce."

Aside from the advent of war, he said, the biggest roadblock to realizing the potentialities of a more prosperous future was the continued trend of the Federal Government towards greater domination of our economy.

Confiscatory levels of taxation and involvement of Government in our economic life, he said, could act as a barrier to the expansion possible under our system of free enterprise. For this reason, Phraner saw the drive to reduce federal spending, cut back taxes, curb inflation, and balance the budget as a major key in making possible the better America of tomorrow.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, Jr.

Girl Scout Troop 12 To Assist on Green

Woodstock, Dec. 17—It was incorrectly reported that the members of Boy Scout Troop 12 would distribute Christmas carol song books, printed copies of the entire program of the Christmas Eve celebration on the green and candles to visitors.

The books and candles will be distributed by the members of Girl Scout Troop 12.

The members of Boy Scout Troop 34 will assist Santa Claus next week in packing candy to be given to the children that evening. The entire event is being sponsored by the Woodstock Square Club.

Decorations Appear Throughout Village

Woodstock, Dec. 17—Christmas decorations are appearing as if by magic about the village proper and surrounding areas. At the entrance to the town, the junction of Routes 212 and 375, Jerry Jerominek's Three Kings have been posted to welcome visitors, while a little further along at the entrance to the Playhouse, Marianne Mecklem's familiar three angel trumpeters have taken their stand. A frosted window in the front of Lewis Wilson's Woodstock Garage indicates that Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer will soon arrive to delight his young friends.

The lights are now on at the large Christmas tree in the village green, and Celeste the Guild of Craftsmen benign golden angel makes her nightly bow in the spotlight, while across the street the snowmen and candy canes are perched above a frosted window at Joseph Forno's Woodstock Pharmacy.

Something new in decor is to be found in Galeena's window, a lovely three dimensional snow scene with a boy and his sled in the foreground. Overlooking the green Madeline Citroen's antique shop is decked with stately candles and Christmas ornaments.

In the outlying areas, Christmas decorations are still sparse, but a trio of holiday sprites have moved this year from their perch on the porch of Carey's Delicatessen. This year the three gnomes are spending Christmas at home with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Carey, and they have begun their holiday frolic scampering up the birch tree in front of the Carey residence. The most mischievous one, "the winking one" as one small girl calls him, has attained the roof from which he waves with impish glee to passersby.

One of the most impressive Christmas trees in the village is the great spruce, lighted again this year, on the lawn of Victor Lasher's home. Up and down the main street most of the places of business are garlanded with greens and the atmosphere grows more festive as each day passes.

West Camp Pastor Honored With Post In Resettlement

REV. HENRY SCHUMANN

West Camp, Dec. 17—The National Lutheran Council, representing nearly all of the Lutheran bodies in the United States has selected the Rev. Henry M. Schumann, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp, to help prepare refugees for resettlement in this country.

He is one of 10 pastors chosen to leave by chartered plane Dec. 27 for two and a half months of service in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. This is the practical outcome of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953 signed by President Eisenhower last August.

The act, not yet operative, awaiting appropriate regulations by the State Department, is expected to become effective shortly. To make the plan quickly operable the Lutheran World Federation (of which the National Lutheran Council is the American Branch) with the assistance of the United Nations Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration is planning to prepare descriptions of 4,000 or more families to be used in securing opportunities for the refugee families in the United States. Leaders were needed who are vitally interested in the plight of the mass of 14 to 18 million homeless people from behind the Iron Curtain who are now existing in pitiful conditions in western and central Europe.

The Rev. Mr. Schumann has shown his interest by his collaborations with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Knaust of Saugerties and his congregation in resettling over 150 people in the Hudson Valley in his two-year pastorate.

Last February the National Lutheran Church appointed him chairman of the New York State Committee for Lutheran Resettlement Service. In this capacity he supervises the entire resettlement work for New York State Lutheranism and is responsible for the solution of all difficult social and adjustment problems which might confront these refugees.

The Rev. Mr. Schumann, after preparing for the Christian ministry, became a specialist in the Old Testament studying at Union Theological Seminary and a year and a half in Germany at the University of Kiel and the University of Erlangen. He speaks German like a native. After a pastorate in New York he served as chaplain and professor of religion at Hartwick College in Oneonta.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church Council which met at West Camp Sunday evening, Dec. 6, graciously granted its pastor a leave of absence so that he may serve the wider work of the church. They also granted him permission to vacation in Europe for three weeks in the event that Mrs. Schumann should join him at the conclusion of his service project. A spokesman for the Council was quoted as saying, "We are greatly honored by the selection of our pastor and feel privileged that we are able to make available his services for this important work of the church at large."

TB Hospital Yule Party December 29

During a meeting of the rehabilitation committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association held Thursday, arrangements were made for the patients' Christmas party to be held at the Ulster County TB Hospital Tuesday night, Dec. 29. Miss Alice Scardefield, general chairman, with several organization representatives will have charge.

Members have purchased and will trim Christmas trees for each wing at the hospital, the patients' dining room and the assembly room. A committee was appointed to purchase gifts. They will be gift-wrapped for each patient and distributed by Santa Claus, who will be furnished by the Knights of Columbus. The ladies of B'nai B'rith Auxiliary will provide the refreshments. The Ulster County Women's Democratic Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jacob Myers, have volunteered to furnish the entertainment. Mrs. John Roberts reported that favors for the patients' trays on Christmas Day will be furnished by the Girl Scout Troop 62 of the Church of the Comforter. The Girl Scout Brownies of the Fair Street Reformed Church furnished favors for the trays Thanksgiving Day.

Gifts Are Donated

Harold Broskie Shoots 298 Single in Ferraro Major League

7-10 Split Robs Vet of '300' Set; Manfro Hits 691

Tony's Pizzeria Sets Mark with 3151

Harold Broskie cracked a 298 solo as Tony's Pizzeria set new records with 1105 and 3176 in a three-game sweep against Silsby Motors in last night's Ferraro Major League action at the Bowl.

Charlie Manfro, sub-anchor for Tony's led the circuit with 691 (255-223-213) to help his squad pile up game totals of 1014, 1105, 1057 for a record 3176.

It was a big night for the veteran Broskie who achieved a career high with his 298. His best previous solo in league competition was 289 and he had topped 290 in a special match.

A wide-open "7-10" split on alley 7 robbed him of the perfect "300," the second bowler in a week to miss that coveted niche. John Sweeney recently shot 299 in the CYO League.

The Pizzeria squad boosted its league lead to 3½ games over Peterson's by virtue of their sweep but they had a close call in the first game. Broskie, as anchor, had to clean up the 6-7-10 split to salvage that set as the rival anchor, Ken Joseph, left the 7-pin standing on a solid pocket shot.

Broskie then embarked on his string of 11 consecutive strikes, finishing on alley 7 where he poured two into the 1-3 pocket and then was slightly "high" on the fatal 12th ball.

With a 168 opener and 220

third game, Broskie finished with 886 for second highest series in the night.

B. Ferraro Has 640
There were a flock of other good scores. Buster Ferraro shot 640, Joe Misasi 627 for Silsby Motors who dropped three despite a respectable 2921.

Larry Weishaupt tossed 618 and Charlie Grunenwald 623 for Tony's. Larry Petersen, Jr., slammed 636 to pace his team to a 2-1 decision over the fading Gov. Clinton Market. George Shufeldt anchored with 605.

Johnny Ferraro of Jones Dairy shot 603 and Ralph Garafola of United Pharmacy racked up 277 in his middle game. Ordinarily this would have been more than enough to lead but last night it was just second best to Broskie's record.

Chris Robinson, the Smith Ave. Storage leadoff, knocked off 627. The "600" club:

Siena Indians Meet Xavier

Siena College bids for its third straight victory when it meets Xavier of Ohio Saturday night at the Albany Armory.

Siena's big hope is Billy Kirsch, whose wonder shot helped the Indians to their Garden victory over Iona. He has averaged a fantastic 57.1 per cent on his field goal attempts in four games to date.

Kirsch, whose 47.5 percentage set a Siena field goal attempt record last year, has hit on 16 of 28 attempts.

Big Tax Gain for Yankees In Surprise Sale of Park

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees will play ball next season in a stadium owned by a Chicago real estate firm located on land owned by the Knights of Columbus but it will still be the "House That Ruth Built."

Del Webb and Dan Topping, co-owners of the baseball club, sold Yankee Stadium and Blues Stadium in Kansas City yesterday for $6,500,000.

They sold it to the Arnold Johnson Corporation of Chicago, headed by Arnold Johnson, Johnson then sold the land under Yankee Stadium and the adjacent parking lots—about four acres of ground—to the Knights of Columbus for $2,500,000.

Next, Johnson rented back the land from the K. of C. and then leased the whole works back to the Yankees. Johnson kept title to the Kansas City park where the K. of C. was not involved.

Everybody seemed happy about the tremendous and complicated deal.

Webb and Topping, along with Larry McPhail, paid only $2,800-

000 in 1945 for both ball parks, the Yankee ball club, its players and all equipment, the Kansas City ball club and its players and the Newark ball club. In 1947 Webb and Topping bought out McPhail for $2,000,000.

Tax Gain for Yanks
Tax experts said that on their profit of some $3½ million Webb and Topping will pay a capital gains tax of about 26 per cent or roughly $900,000.

None of the parties would reveal the Yankee rental but most guesses ranged around $150,000. In addition the Yankee ball club will pay the taxes on the stadium.

The tax experts said Webb and Topping improved their tax position here, too, since they will be able to charge off the rental cost as expense deductible from gross income. About the only deductions they could claim as owners were upkeep and taxes. And they will still get to charge these off, also.

Johnson's lease on the land could run as long as 70 years. He also has the privilege of buying back the land after 15 years for $3,000,000.

Trinity Lutheran's high powered basketball team racked up a first night score in the Protestant Senior Church League that may well stand up for the remainder of the season.

The Lutherans ran riot over Redeemer Lutheran, 103-47, after winging to a 36-8 lead in the first period.

The companion piece was a thriller in which First Presbyterian shaded Progressive Baptist, 53-54, with an 11-8 edge in the fourth quarter.

Lenahan Hits 31
Denny Lenahan sparked Trinity with 31 points and four other hits in doubled figures. Ronnie Brandt bucketed 25, D. Simmons 18, Schoonmaker 12 and George Baechtle 10. B. Claire led the losers with 11.

A strong second half enabled the Presbyterians to sneak through over the Baptists. They trailed 32-25 at intermission time but a 21-point third quarter put them back in contention.

Don Schroder hooped 23 points, Bruce Bechtold 12 and Ed Strong 10 for the winners. John Cody led Progressives with 16 points, Armstrong (13) and Davis (10) were other production men.

High School Seeks Third Win Tonight at Liberty

Irish 'Injury' Voted Incident Of 1953 Football

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Notre Dame's much-discussed "injured player" time out in its Nov. 21 deadlock with the Iowa Hawkeyes popped up again today to be voted college football's "most unusual incident" in an Associated Press poll of sportswriters and sportscasters.

The Irish "incident," which brought forth nationwide expression of pros and cons, easily won out over the Duke-Navy "short count" and the collapse of Frank Leahy during the Notre Dame-Georgia Tech game, Oct. 24.

The ND-Iowa controversy, labeled by some who balloted as the "big faint" and "the dying swan act," was one of the most heated in recent seasons.

It was set off by tackle Frank Varrichione who—with only one second remaining in the first half, the Irish trailing 7-0 and already having used up its allotment of five time outs—suddenly clutched at his back and legs and fell to the ground. A time out was called, following which quarterback Ralph Gugliemi fired a 12-yard touchdown pass to end Dan Shannon to tie the score.

Weaver Hits 12 In Army Victory Over Ithaca, 81-57

Ed Weaver scored 12 points as Army's basketball team recorded its first victory of the season with a decisive 81-57 triumph over Ithaca College yesterday at the field house.

Bill Hannon, Army center, paced the Cadet attack with 29 points and Mark Binstein hit 24. Dick Horton tallied 18 for Ithaca.

The score:
Army (81)—Harbold f 6, Weaver f 12, Strom f 1, Suddath f, Hannon c 29, Littlefield g 9, Binstein g 24, Carcardillo g.

Ithaca College (57)—Chadwick f 9, Burnell f 2, Scally c 4, Horton g 18, Jones g 17, Roe f 3, Hardin g 2, Judd g 2.

Fights Last Night

Detroit—Al Andrews, 152½, Superior, Wis., outpointed Pat Lowry, 147½, Toledo, 10.

Fall River, Mass.—Willie Johnson, 151, Newark, N. J., knocked out Clarence Williams, 151, Fall River, 1.

Duke Snider Top Slugger; Mathews Next

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Brooklyn's Duke Snider is the official winner of the National League's slugging championship, edging Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee's slugging third baseman, by two-tenths of a percentage point.

Snider, 27-year-old outfielder, slugged for an average of .6271 to .6269 for Mathews, according to official 1953 statistics released today by the National League Service Bureau.

The Duke put together 370 total bases in 590 at bats, including 38 doubles, four triples and 42 homers. Mathews, with 363 total bases in 579 trips, had 31 doubles, eight three-baggers and 47 home runs (the most in the league).

Averages compiled by the Associated Press and released last October also listed Snider as the NL's slugging leader with .6271 and Mathews as the runner-up at .6269.

Campanella Is Third
Roy Campanella of Brooklyn finished third at .610. The burly catcher, winner of the league's most valuable player award, drove out 317 total bases in 519 at bats. His extra-base output included 26 doubles, three triples and 42 homers.

Slugging averages are computed by dividing the total bases on all hits by the number of times at bat.

Leaders in other miscellaneous departments were: Bases on balls—Musial 105; most times struck out—Steve Bilko, St. Louis 125; fewest times struck out—Don Mueller, New York 13; grounded into double plays—Joe Adcock, Milwaukee 22 and hit by pitchers—Solly Hemus, St. Louis 12.

Wings Tie Canadiens By Beating Hawks

(By The Associated Press)
The battle for the National Hockey League's top spot was locked tighter than the penalty box door today, with Detroit and Montreal each having 40 points.

The Red Wings moved into the first place deadlock last night by walloping the hapless Chicago Black Hawks 5-1. The Boston Bruins edged the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2 in the only other game.

Dukes Annex Sixth Straight

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Third ranking Duquesne and 10th ranking Western Kentucky added new links to their basketball victory chains last night and now should continue unbeaten at least until the holiday tournaments.

The Dukes from Pittsburgh made it six in a row at the expense of the touring University of Texas 71-58 and Western Kentucky won its eighth straight 78-55 over an outclassed St. Francis of Brooklyn quintet in Madison Square Garden.

Western Kentucky breezed through the first three quarters against St. Francis, then coasted as the hustling Brooklyn club scored 28 points in the last 10 minutes.

Rice won its fifth straight in the other half of the Garden twin bill, outlasting St. John's of Brooklyn 85-81. The Southwest Conference club overpowered St. John's until the final quarter when it suddenly hit a cold spell from the floor and collected only three field goals.

Newark, N. J.—Hurley Sanders, 161, Newark, outpointed Phil Rizzo, 158, Brooklyn, 8.

Worcester, Mass.—Willie Gray, 150, Boston, outpointed Billy Andy, 153½, Providence, 10.

Talbert Saves U. S. Cup Hopes

Brisbane, Australia, Dec. 18 (AP)—U. S. Davis Cup captain Billy Talbert gambled and won today when he teamed with his young protegee, Tony Trabert, and carved out at 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 9-7 victory over Belgium's Philippe Washer and Jacques Brichant in the doubles match of the Davis Cup interzone finals. Talbert, old "Long Pants" of the pre-war days, substituted himself for Vic Seixas, his slumping star, and he certainly made the right decision. The 35-year-old veteran, who has been playing little competitive tennis, was superb for two sets, then held on for the last two when the pace began to get him.

The victory was a must for the American team. Now Talbert's operatives need only to split tomorrow's final two singles matches to gain the challenge round against Australia at the end of the month.

Talbert said he would send Seixas back into action against Washer and Trabert against Brichant, a reversal of the first two singles opponents. It was yesterday that Brichant upset Seixas and had Talbert worrying over just what course of action to take.

During their recent good will tour of the Orient, the New York baseball Giants traveled 25,000 miles by air.

Laker Loss Boosts Royals

(By The Associated Press)
The Minneapolis Lakers, the NBA's Western Division pacesetters, were feeling the hot breath of the Rochester Royals on their necks today, following some "defective basket" by-play. The start of last night's Lakers-Baltimore Bullets game was held up 50 minutes while maintenance men repaired a cracked hoop. When the game finally got underway, Minneapolis had trouble locating the new basket and dropped a 75-64 decision. It was only Baltimore's fifth victory in 22 starts.

At Cleveland, led by Arnie Rison's 23 points, Rochester moved to within a game of the Lakers by walloping the Philadelphia Warriors 91-79.

Tony Leswick of the Detroit Red Wings is the shortest player in the National Hockey League. He is 5 feet 6 inches.

Over Graham

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Paddy Young is a 7 to 5 favorite to spoil welterweight contender Billy Graham's bid for middleweight laurels in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The 31-year-old Graham, boasting a victory over third ranking middleweight contender Joey Giardello and a draw with second ranking Rocky Castellani, has decided to aim for Bobo Olson's 160-pound crown.

A veteran of 120 pro bouts in 13 years of fighting for cash, Graham is spotting his fellow New Yorker 10 pounds and six years in the 10 rounder. Billy will weigh about 150 to Paddy's 160.

Notre Dame Suspends
Heap and Guglielmi
For Breaking Curfew

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 18 (AP)—Quarterback Ralph Guglielmi and halfback Joe Heap, suspended by Notre Dame for breaking curfew, will be permitted to apply for re-admission in February.

The two juniors, regulars on the undefeated Irish football team this season, admitted last night they had been suspended after a tardy return to the campus following a celebration of Notre Dame's 40-14 season-ending victory over Southern Methodist Dec. 5.

The weekend curfew for all students at the university is 12:30 a. m. Heap said he and Guglielmi were "about 20 minutes late."

The Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, would neither deny nor confirm the suspensions. He said the school has a strict policy against public announcements of such kind.

However, Heap told reporters at Memphis, where he attended a prep school banquet, that "it's true—Ralph and I violated a minor rule at the university and we have to accept the consequences."

"We were a little disappointed, but we'll take our medicine," Heap added. "Both of us definitely will apply to get back into school when the second semester starts in February."

Guglielmi, attending a Moose Club sports celebration in Rock Island, Ill., had no comment other than he would apply for readmission.

Neil Worden, senior fullback, was with Guglielmi. He said: "Whatever the infraction was it was a minor one... and I think Joe and Ralph will be readmitted to Notre Dame without question."

Elliott Released

Chicago, Dec. 18 (AP)—Third baseman Elliott, 37, the National League's most valuable player in 1947, today was unconditionally released by the Chicago White Sox. His National League career lasted from 1939 until the Giants unconditionally released him Oct. 1, 1952.

Bjoerling Forced to Quit

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Tenor Jussi Bjoerling, ailing the past two weeks with laryngitis, tried last night to sing the title role of "Faust" at the Metropolitan Opera but had to give up after the first act. The opera was delayed 15 minutes as Thomas Hayward, who never before had sung the part at the Met, sped from his home and took over on-stage. Bjoerling has been forced to cancel several engagements in the past fortnight because of his ailment.

Kiwanians to Man Salvation Kettles

Members of the Kiwanis Club will man the Salvation Army Christmas kettles in uptown Kingston Friday evening and Saturday.

A schedule worked out by Raymond Garrahan and Harold E. Keator at Thursday's Kiwanis luncheon meeting will provide club members to ring the bells and beat the drums in front of the kettles Friday from 7 to 9 p. m. and on Saturday between 1 and 5 p. m. and 7 and 9 p. m.

Kiwanis participation in the project was voted the approval of the club's board of directors at its regular December meeting. Similar participation is undertaken by Kiwanis Clubs in other cities.

How Funds Are Used

Funds raised by the Salvation Army during its Christmas drive are used for distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families, "Sunshine" baskets to local hospitals and convalescent homes, and for winter relief.

At the weekly Kiwanis meeting, John M. Walker and John B. Wilkie were inducted into membership. The induction was conducted by Past President Harry Rigby, Jr., on behalf of the committee on Kiwanis education and fellowship. Next week's meeting will be a Christmas party for members and children at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Wednesday at noon.

Fluorescent lamps provide between two and three times as much light as incandescent lamps and give off less heat.

CONSTIPATED?

Then read how Frank Della Penna of Holyoke, Mass. gets real relief!

"I'd been troubled with constipation for quite a while. But most of the laxatives I'd tried were either too harsh or too slow.

"Then, I heard about Sal Hepatica from a friend—and now I'm sold on it for life! I tell you, it really does the trick. Now when I get that loggy, constipated feeling in the evening, I take Sal Hepatica a half hour before dinner, and I feel fine again by bedtime!"

Yes, take sparkling Sal Hepatica before breakfast and feel fine again... usually within an hour. Or, take in the evening one-half hour before supper and feel fine again by bedtime! Sweetens sour stomach, too! So keep Sal Hepatica handy in your medicine chest.

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Today's hand was amusing to everybody but North and South. The joke happened to be on them, but it was all their own fault.

There was no reason for North's takeout double of one heart. It's all right to shade a takeout double when you have good distribution, but it's just asking for trouble to make a light double when your distribution is the worthless 4-3-3-3.

Nobody would blame North for doubling with the same high cards if he had a singleton heart and four cards in each of the other suits, and with that sort of hand North wouldn't actually get into much trouble.

When East very properly redoubled, South should have stayed out of the auction to let North look for a rescue. The partnership might have struggled into two diamonds, at which five tricks could be won. This would be no bargain, since East and West would not have had a game if left to their own devices, but at least it would not be a disaster. Against the actual contract of one no-trump doubled, West opened the three of spades. Declarer played low from the dummy, and East won with the king. East returned the deuce of spades. West put up the queen, and dummy won with the ace.

South decided to go after the diamonds by leading a low card from the dummy. East ducked, and West won with the ten. West then led a spade to East's ten and got a heart return through declarer. After winning this heart trick, West led another spade to East's eight, and got another heart through South.

Upon winning the second round of hearts West shrewdly led the queen of diamonds. He didn't want to give East any trouble with the discarding. There was lots of time to cash the good hearts, for it was clear that East had another heart left.

South had already taken one trick with the ace of spades and should have taken dummy's second ace before the mice got at it. But he refused the diamond trick, hoping that something would happen. Something did.

West promptly cashed his two good hearts, and dummy was squeezed! Dummy could save only three cards. If one of them was the ace of diamonds, the defenders would take the last three tricks with clubs. If dummy discarded the ace of diamonds, East would save the king of diamonds and two clubs for the last three tricks.

The penalty of 1100 points pleased the defenders hugely, but North and South were not amused.
